CLEMSON — A ROCK SOLID TRADITION IN ITS 100TH SEASON

Today's Features

6 Brian Dawkins

Clemson's top preseason honors candidate has had strong support from his family, both as a child, and now. Tommy West feels Dawkins is ready for a banner season.

54 Patrick Sapp

One of the top stories of the preseason has been Patrick Sapp's move to outside linebacker. Few football players have been a starter at quarterback and outside linebacker over their careers, but Clemson's senior has made the adjustment quickly.

65 Endowed Scholarships

George Bennett has had a positive response to Clemson's new endowed positions program. It is a fund raising program that allows IPTAY members to fund the scholarship of specific positions on specific Clemson teams.

68 Michael Dean Perry

Michael Dean Perry received a warm welcome when he returned to Death Valley on August 12th. He was dressed in orange, just as he had for four years during the mid-eighties for Clemson. But, this time he was in the visiting locker room.

77 Tiger Volleyball

Jolene Hoover has coached Clemson for two years and each year he has taken the Lady Tigers to the NCAA Tournament. Robbin Kibben, a three-time All-ACC player, has graduated, but the Lady Tigers should be in the thick of the ACC race again this year.

81 Chuck Winslow

Chuck Winslow will have 14 relatives in attendance at today's game. The senior outside linebacker hopes to give this loyal group a lot to cheer about as he chases down the talented Seminole running backs from his new position.

113 Gameday Operations

Who are the busiest people at Clemson the week of a football game. In 1995 it might be the Clemson ground crew, who must prepare Frank Howard Field for 16 home games instead of just six.

117 Duane Ross

The IPTAY Athlete of the Year for the 1994-95 academic year is Duane Ross. The hurdler on the Clemson men's track team was the school's only National Champion last year.

119 Potpourri

Everything from a list of future non-conference opponents to Tiger players in the NFL are listed on this informative catch-all page.

120 The Last Word

Florida State has not lost a game to an ACC team in the decade of the 1990s. Clemson was the last ACC team to defeat the Seminoles and it happened six years ago today in one of the finest all-around performances in recent history by the Tigers.

On the Cover: Patrick Sapp and Brian Dawkins were high school teammates in Jacksonville, FL. They figured on being teammates when they signed with Clemson in 1992, but little did they know that they would be starting on the same side of the ball at Clemson. Sapp was a high school All-America quarterback and Dawkins an all-state safety. Now Sapp is an outside linebacker and hopes to team with Dawkins and lead Clemson to a third straight top 20 ranking among the nation's top scoring defenses.

TODAY'S GAME

By Tim Bourret

#1 Team at Death Valley for First Time

Clemson will face a number-one ranked Florida State team Saturday at Clemson. The highest ranked team Clemson has beaten in history is number-four. Both wins over the number-four ranked team in the nation took place in the same year, 1981. The Tigers won the National Championship that year and wins over a number-four Georgia team (13-3 at Clemson) and a number-four Nebraska team (22-15 in the Orange Bowl) were important steps.

Clemson is 2-2 against top five teams since 1981 and both losses are to Florida State. The Seminoles were ranked fifth when they defeated a 15th-ranked Clemson team in 1992 by a 24-20 score, and FSU was number-one when it defeated Clemson 57-0 in 1993.

Clemson has played the number-one team in the nation twice previously and has an 0-2 record in those games. In addition to the loss at Florida State in 1993, Clemson lost by a 7-0 score to a number-one LSU team in the 1959 Sugar Bowl.

Thus, this is the first time a number-one ranked team will come to Clemson. It will be the first time a number-one ranked team has played at Clemson. Even though Clemson won the National Championship in 1981, it never entered a game at Death Valley that year with the number-one ranking. A number-two ranked Maryland team is the highest ranked team to come to Death Valley. The second-ranked Terps defeated the Tigers 25-12 in 1955.

Tigers Last ACC Team to Beat FSU

Florida State has won 25 straight ACC games since it joined the league in 1992. It has won the 25 games by an average of over 31 points per game, including the 70-26 victory over Duke last Saturday. Their closest margin of victory during the ACC streak was four points, at Clemson in 1992. The Seminoles scored a touchdown with just under three minutes left to defeat the Tigers 24-20 in the first night game at Death Valley since 1956. Only one other game in the 25-game streak, at Georgia Tech in 1992, has been under a touchdown differential. Florida State scored two fourth-period touchdowns to win in Atlanta that year, 29-24.

The last ACC team to beat Florida State is Clemson. The Tigers downed the Seminoles 34-23 in Tallahassee on September 9, 1989, exactly six years ago to the day of Saturday's contest. Clemson jumped out to a 21-0 lead in that game and held a 28-10 halftime advantage. Florida State scored in the last minute of play to bring the margin to within 11 points.

Terry Allen had 20 carries for 130 yards and three touchdowns to lead the Clemson offense that churned out 255 yards rushing on just 45 attempts. Clemson averaged seven yards a play for the game. Chris Morocco was 8-9 passing for 134 yards. Doug Brewster had 12 tackles, while Wayne Simmons, now with the Green Bay Packers, had a 73-yard interception return for a score. Simmons was a freshman that year, the same class as current Clemson freshman linebacker Anthony Simmons. Stacy Long had 10 knockdown blocks and his performance in this game went a long way to his selection as a first-team All-America offensive tackle later that year.

Clemson took a talented team to Tallahassee that night six years ago. Fourteen of the 61 players who participated in the game went on to play in the NFL, including 10 who are still active.

Clemson-Florida State Connections

There are many connections between Clemson and Florida State in terms of coaching and administrative personnel:

*Clemson co-offensive coordinator Rick Stockstill was Florida State's quarterback between 1979-81. He passed for 1356 yards as a senior in 1981 and was a two-year starter for FSU. He quarterbacked the 1980 team to an Orange Bowl berth.

*Clemson inside linebacker coach Reggie Herring played for Florida State between 1977-80. He is a member of the Florida State Athletic Hall of Fame and earned AP All-America honors in 1980. He played in three bowl games in his four years with the Seminoles.

*Florida State defensive coordinator Mickey Andrews served in the same capacity for Clemson between 1976-80 and held the assistant head coach title under Danny Ford in 1980.

*Clemson Head Trainer Fred Hoover is a 1953 Florida State graduate who was the head trainer at Florida State in 1952-53 and 1957-58. He has been at Clemson since 1959 and has worked 399 consecutive Clemson football games heading into Saturday's game.

Dawkins Outstanding vs. Florida State

Brian Dawkins has been Clemson's top player against Florida State over the last two years. The senior from Jacksonville, FL had 15 tackles against the Seminoles last year and had nine the year before. He had two tackles in the 1992 game at Clemson against the Seminoles, so he has 26 career tackles against Florida State, more than any other team.

Dawkins total of 15 tackles last year ranked as the fourth most ever by a Clemson defensive back in a single game. The record is 17, held by Willie Underwood against South Carolina in 1980 and by Ronald Watson vs.

Clemson s 1994 defense held Florida State to a two-year scoring low.

Georgia Tech in 1984. Jack Cain had 16 tackles against Maryland in 1980 and those are the only single game defensive back tackle efforts better than Dawkins since Clemson began keeping defensive stats in 1975.

Dawkins is Clemson's top honors candidate this year. He was named a second-team All-American by Football Digest and Athlon in the preseason and is ranked among the top 12 safeties in the nation by four preseason publications. Dawkins had two tackles and a pass broken up in 38 plays in the season opener.

Last Year's Game

A seventh-ranked Florida State team shutout Clemson for the second straight year in Tallahassee in a 17-0 Seminole victory. Still, Clemson took some confidence from that game and proceeded to win its next three games. The Tigers held Florida State to a season low in terms of points and it is the fewest points the Seminoles have scored over their last 30 games. It is the fewest points scored by FSU at home since scoring 16 in a 17-16 loss to Miami in 1991.

Brian Dawkins led the defensive effort with 15 tackles, while Wardell Rouse had nine, Tim Jones eight and Darnell Stephens eight. Nealon Greene started the game, but separated his shoulder in the first half. Raymond Priester was Clemson's top rusher with 5-26. Florida State scored both of their touchdowns in the first half, both on runs by Warwick Dunn, who had 133 yards on 17 carries. Danny Kannell was 17-32 for 181 yards, but no touchdowns.

Hoover Looking for 400th Straight Game

With all the attention towards Cal Ripken and his breaking of Lou Gehrig's Major League Baseball record for consecutive games played this week, it is appropriate that we point out a Clemson streak for consecutive games of service. Clemson Assistant Athletic Director and Head Trainer Fred Hoover will work his 400th consecutive game as Clemson's Head Trainer when the Tigers meet Florida State this Saturday. Ironically, Hoover's landmark game will take place against his alma mater. Hoover is a 1953 graduate of Florida State.

Hoover first came to Clemson in 1959 and has not missed a game since. Hoover is a member of the Clemson Hall of Fame, the South Carolina Hall of Fame and the National Trainers Association Hall of Fame. He has worked 13 Clemson bowl games over his career.

Florida State Update

Clemson fans were impressed with their team's 55-point outburst last Saturday, the most points by a Clemson team in 55 games (since 59-0 win over Long Beach State in 1990). Then, Tiger fans went home and watched Florida State nearly reach that point total in one half. Yes, at intermission the Seminoles had scored 54 points and racked up 540 yards of total offense against Duke. One member of the media said he couldn't remember the last time a team "had a par five in one half." Most people can't even go for the green in two in what Florida State accumulated in the first half against the Blue Devils.

Florida State ended the day with 70 points and 797 yards, 446 passing and 351 rushing. Danny Kanell, the senior quarterback, connected on 27 of 21 passes for 275 yards and four touchdowns, while the backup QB, Thad Busby, hit 10-18 passes for 116 yards and another score. Florida State had two 100-yard rushers and two 100-yard receivers as they defeated an ACC opponent for the 25th straight time. Rock Preston was the top rusher with six carries for 126 yards. That total included an 85-yard touchdown run. Andre Cooper had nine receptions for 155 yards and two scores.

Coach Bobby Bowden won his 250th game as a college coach, his 177th at Florida State. Only Bear Bryant, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Pop Warner and Joe Paterno have won more games than Bowden. He has Florida State ranked number-one in the nation in both polls this week and it is the 123rd time in the last 125 polls that Florida State has been ranked in the top 20. Florida State has ranked in the final top five for an all-time record eight consecutive seasons.

Greene Posts 5th best Efficiency Game

Clemson sophomore quarterback Nealon Greene got his season off on the right foot when he completed 12-16 passes for 191 yards and three scores in the Tigers victory over Western Carolina. His 237.2 passing efficiency figure leads the nation, the first time a Clemson quarterback has ever led the nation in passing at any juncture of a season.

That 237.2 passing efficiency figure is the fifth best in Clemson history given a minimum of 10 attempts. Given a minimum of 15 attempts, it ranks as the second best passing efficiency performance in Clemson history. Only Jimmy Addison's opening day performance against Virginia in 1966 is better. Addison hit 12-19 for 283 yards and three touchdowns that day for a 240.4 efficiency.

Still, Greene's performance was the best by a Clemson quarterback in 24 years. Tommy Kendrick had a 239 efficiency rating against Virginia in 1971 when he was 9-14 for 252 yards and a score. Greene also became the first Clemson quarterback in 12 years to throw three touchdown passes in a game. Mike Eppley, now the color commentator on the Clemson radio network, was the last to do it, as he had three scoring passes against Maryland in 1983.

Greene completed his 12 passes to eight different receivers and threw scoring passes to Emory Smith, Antwuan Wyatt and Carl Baker. Greene has already tripled his touchdown pass total from last year. As a first-year freshman, Greene threw just one scoring pass, at Georgia in his first game as a Tiger.

The native of Yonkers, NY also had 32 yards rushing and a touchdown, so he had 223 yards of total offense, the highest figure of his Clemson career. He had 204 yards in total offense in a loss at Duke last year.

It is interesting to note that current Clemson starting outside linebacker Patrick Sapp owns the seventh best passing efficiency game in Clemson history.

BRIAN DAWKINS

by Sam Blackman

Somewhere a "quote author" is happy.

The person that started the motto "you win, not by luck, but by preparation," must have had Clemson senior strong safety Brian Dawkins in mind.

The biggest part of this defensive back's game is watching film during the week and training hard during the off season to prepare for the upcoming rigorous season.

The practice field is not the only place Dawkins readies himself for the year. It begins in the weight room during the winter months and the film projector in the coaches' offices both during the season and the offseason.

Clemson Strength Coach Gary Wade stresses Dawkins's excellent commitment and attitude in the weight room is a model for others.

"Brian has tremendous strength and explosive ability," said Wade. "He is committed to improvement and advancing his skills. He always comes in the weight room focused and appears to be on a mission."

"Watching films is the big thing when playing defensive back," said Dawkins. "When you are watching films you look for tendencies from the quarterback and receivers. Reviewing films allows you to watch the quarterback and the receiver over and over. During the game you keep an eye, not only on the receiver, but his legs and feet. Usually they will provide you with keys and these keys are very helpful in doing your job."

Dawkins takes great pride in playing strong safety for the Tigers and he will instantly tell you it's not the easiest job on the field.

"I can't take any play off. If I take a play for granted and just jog to the ball, they might break a tackle. I am the run support in the secondary and I have to be there to make the tackle. There's no room to save anything when you are on the field."

This year Dawkins was named second-team preseason All-American by Athlon and Football Digest and ranked as the eighth best safety in the nation by Sporting News preseason magazine. He has been named second-team All-ACC player each of the last two years. Last year he started all 11 games at strong safety. A high point of his junior year took place against today's opponent, Florida State. He had 15 tackles, his career high, and the top tackle total for a Clemson defensive back since 1984 when Ronald Watson had 17 against Georgia Tech.

When the Tigers play Florida State it seems to bring out the best in Dawkins. He had nine tackles against the Seminoles in 1993, and he has had more tackles against Florida State than any other team over his career.

"While growing up in the state of Florida, I heard a lot about Florida, Florida State, and Miami. When I play a team from the state of Florida it naturally gives me a boost because the people back home will be watching the game. People remember the bad rather than the good so I want to make sure I don't do anything bad when I play against Florida State—it is a big game, but all or our games are big to us."

Clemson has had a Florida connection in recruiting, and Brian Dawkins is not the only Clemson player to come from Raines High School in Jacksonville, Florida. A 4-A all-state selection, he teamed with current Tiger Patrick Sapp to lead Raines High School to 30 straight regular season wins. Former Tiger wide receiver Terrance Roulhac also is a product of this high school.

"Patrick and I wanted to go to the same college so we would know someone there. Coach Rick Stockstill recruited both of us and he gave me the opportunity to come here. Patrick signed before I did and then I decided Clemson was the place for me—I have been happy ever since."

"I was recruiting Pat and Brian at the same time," said Stockstill. "Brian stood on his own. Brian was a good, tough player in high school. He is very aggressive and has good speed. Brian is very athletic—he can run jump and knock the daylights out of his opponents, and you could see that in high school."

Brian's preparation for a college career began long before his high school days. During his youth football career, his father coached him, and with his brother leading the way, it was only natural he gave up his basketball dreams and chose football.

"When I was young I wanted to play basketball, but I changed my mind. When I saw my brother on the (football) field and his performances that was a big motivational factor for me. He is three years older than I am and every school or activity I participated in, he paved the way for me because I was right behind him. I could always ask him for advice just like I did from my father. As I got older, I realized how much fun football was and that is when I made my switch.

"My mother also plays a big part in my life. She put the stern hand down when I needed it and my father was always there when I needed him. They gave me a picture of how life is and taught me that working hard will benefit me in any area of life."

Brian's brother, Ralph, is hopefully paving another road for Brian. He is currently a player for the New Orleans Saints after a successful career at the University of Louisville.

"We talk to each other during the week. He helped me prepare for college and the demands it brings in studying and playing football."

He must have been a good tutor as Brian has been a member of Clemson's Academic Honor Roll and is on track to graduate.

While his parents and brother have been a positive influence, another family member has helped Dawkins through life at Clemson.

Brian is one of the few married players on the team, and he credits being married as a positive step in surviving the rigors of being a student-athlete.

Dawkins has gotten outstanding support from many members of his family, including his wife, Connie.

"Being married has helped me get my priorities in order. It has been a big help knowing I have her support after a long practice or after a hard day of study. It has helped me learn to balance my time. I love spending time with her."

His wife, Connie, shares his enthusiasm of being a Tiger. "I am real proud of him. It is great going to a game and seeing him perform. We are real excited about his senior season. I try to make things easy for him and support him in anything he does."

Entering his senior season, Dawkins has been called upon to step up and be a leader. Clemson defensive backfield coach Charles Harbison calls him a "coach on the field."

"Dawkins is a great leader, not vocally, but by example with his work ethic. He gets the job done and when he speaks, everyone listens. Brian has the skills and we try to work on the little things to improve his game. He has unreal talents."

"I love playing defensive back," continued Dawkins. "I would like to play cornerback, but that is out of the question. I want to play where I can help the team.

"We have a saying among the defensive backs, 'we are the most skilled position on the team.' Anyone that can keep up with someone back pedaling and still have enough speed and agility to break for the ball has to have some athletic ability. We are the most athletically inclined position. You have to have it in your head that when the ball is in the air, it is yours.

"I pray before a game and go over in my mind what I have to do in the game. Again, I study film during the week. We also stress to the younger guys to watch more film. The more you watch the better you will be. If you watch enough film you could have three or four interceptions in a game."

Brian has his own motto.

"The more you prepare, the better you are going to be in the game. It's not necessarily who plays the game the hardest that wins, it is who prepares the hardest for the game."

That motto to live by could carry Brian Dawkins a long way...to the NFL according to many NFL scouts.

DR. DENO CURRIS

The Clemson family has a new leader.

President Constantine "Deno" Curris became the school's 13th president on May 22, 1995.

"More than any other university with which I have been familiar, there is a deep affection for this university and for its heritage," says Dr. Curris.

"That affection was an important quality that led me into the process when I was asked to be a candidate.

"I have become a believer in 'learning by osmosis,' gaining a sense of place by becoming a part.

"I am most eager to absorb the Clemson atmosphere by strolling the grounds, walking through offices, visiting classrooms."

One of Dr. Curris' hobbies is gardening, growing traditional vegetables, and he has spent his career helping universities grow and prosper as well.

Before arriving at the Clemson University campus, he was president of the University of Northern Iowa for 11 years. During his tenure, Northern Iowa was the only university in Iowa to experience enrollment growth. And, with one exception, the school's state appropriation also increased every year. The U.S. News and World Report cited UNI in 1993 as one of the best educational values among public universities. Its campus has also been ranked as the safest in the nation.

Curris assumed the Presidency of Northern Iowa in August, 1983. He became only the seventh chief executive in the school's history. At Northern Iowa, he led the school in raising admission standards and implementing a more rigorous comprehensive general education program. He expanded Northern Iowa's reputation as an institution for teacher education, gaining national recognition for programs in business, fine arts, humanities, natural sciences, and social and behavioral sciences.

He oversaw the development of international exchange programs and cutting-edge technological efforts such as centers for waste reduction, plastics technology, small business development, applied research in metal casting, and recycling and reuse technology transfer. Curris was also the driving force behind a $25 million private fund raising drive to build a performing arts center and fund endowed chairs and professorships.

Curris also directed the completion of extensive campus improvements and building renovations.

Dr. Curris' philosophy, supported by hard work, accounts for much of his success, the belief in constant improvement-gradual sometimes, but consistent.

"The real work of a university is building quality in incremental steps," he said. "Building the quality of the experience for students, both in education and career opportunities."

Prior to assuming the Northern Iowa presidency, Curris served 10 years as president of Murray State in Kentucky. The university's 130,000 square-foot student center is named the Curris Center in his honor.

Curris received a bachelor's degree, magna cum laude in political science from Kentucky in 1962; a master's degree in political science and public administration from Illinois in 1965, and his doctorate in higher education from Kentucky in 1967.

Curris came to Clemson in May after a successful decade at Northern Iowa.

Vice President and Dean of the Faculty, Midway (KY) College, 1965-68

Assistant Coordinator, University of Kentucky Centennial Celebration 1964-65

He currently serves as chairman-elect and director of the American Association of State Colleges and Universities and is involved in a number of other professional and civic organizations.

Curris was born November 13, 1940, in Lexington, KY. He is married to Jo Hern Curris, a tax attorney. They are the parents of a son, Robert Page, and a daughter, Elena.

"What has really struck us at Clemson, is the immense loyalty that we have sensed among the Clemson family. The affection and pride that people have for the University permeates every conversation."

TOMMY WEST

Tommy West, was named head coach of the Clemson Tigers on November 29, 1993. Less than a month later he already had a bowl victory on his ledger, a 14-13 triumph in the Peach Bowl, Clemson's sixth bowl victory in the last eight years.

In his first full season, West guided the Tigers to a 5-6 record, and it was a season that showed week-by-week improvement. The '94 club, which featured the youngest Clemson offensive unit in 50 years, finished with a number-one ranking in turnover margin, a landmark ranking in Clemson football history. The Tigers were ranked as high as 21st in the USA Today poll, and finished the season with three wins in its last four outings, including a decisive conquest of #12 North Carolina in Chapel Hill.

West's defense ranked 14th in the nation against the run and 17th in scoring defense. The aggressive unit forced 29 turnovers and was one of the most reliable in the nation inside the redzone.

West also recruited one of the most impressive and productive freshman classes in Clemson history. Eighteen freshmen lettered in 1994, most for a Clemson rookie class since the 1940s. At times, the Tigers started seven freshmen on offense, including five first-year freshmen at the "skill positions." Last winter, he and his staff recruited a top 20 class according to most recruiting services.

West was a mainstay of a Clemson coaching staff that led the Tigers to a 69-20-4 record and six Associated Press Top 20 finishes between 1982-89.

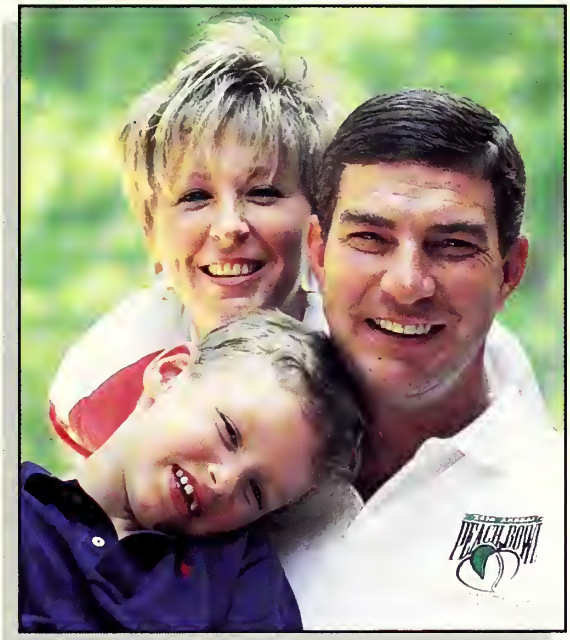
During West's first tour of duty with the Tigers as an outside linebacker coach, Clemson played in five bowl games (winning four) and claimed four ACC Championships, including three in a row from 1986-88.

Clemson had a 44-10-1 record against ACC competition during his era on the Tiger staff, an 81 percent winning mark. Additionally, five of those Clemson teams ranked in the top 15 in the nation in rushing defense and scoring defense, and three ranked in the top 12 in the nation in total defense.

Clemson's 1989 defense ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, rushing defense and scoring defense and West's outside linebackers had a lot to do with that success. His top four outside linebackers that year all played in the NFL in 1994.

Levon Kirkland (Pittsburgh Steelers), Wayne Simmons (Green Bay Packers) and John Johnson (Cincinnati Bengals) were starters in 1994 in the NFL, and Ashley Sheppard (Minnesota Vikings) was a top reserve. Simmons was a first-round draft pick, Kirkland and Johnson second-round selections and Sheppard was a fourth-round choice. In addition to the four players listed above, Andy Headen (New York Giants) and Terence Mack (St. Louis Cardinals) are former Tigers West helped guide to an NFL career.

West began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Tennessee (his alma mater) in 1977. He coached one year of high school football at White County High in Sparta, TN in 1978, then became an assistant at Mississippi in 1979. For the 1980 and 1981 seasons he served as an assistant coach at Appalachian State.



The West family: Tommy, wife Lindsay and son Turner.

After his career at Clemson (1982-89), West became the running backs coach at Tennessee. During that 1990 season Tennessee won the Southeastern Conference and captured the Sugar Bowl winning over Virginia. The Volunteers scored a school record 442 points that year and averaged over 410 yards a game in total offense, 205.7 rushing and 205.4 passing. He served as Co-Defensive Coordinator at South Carolina in 1991 and 1992.

In 1993 West took over a UT-Chattanooga team that had won just two games in 1992. He doubled that total in 1993 and guided the Mocs to one of the landmark wins in school history, a 33-31 win over #1 ranked Marshall. He concluded the regular season with a 45-42 victory over Furman. Ironically, his first regular season game as Clemson coach was a victory over Furman.

With his debut in the Peach Bowl, West became the sixth coach in NCAA history to make his debut with a program in a bowl game. However, he was just the second coach in history to make his debut in a bowl game without previously coaching his new team as an assistant coach earlier in the season.

West earned three letters in his four-year career at Tennessee (1972-75). The Vols played in three bowl games and were ranked in a final Top 20 in three seasons. He was the co-captain of Tennessee's 1975 football team and played in the Blue-Gray All-Star game that same year.

He began his college career as a running back, but saw most of his playing time as a tight end. He caught 37 passes for 575 yards in his career with the Vols, including 16 passes for 233 yards as a senior. As a junior he caught an 81-yd. pass from Condredge Holloway, still the longest non-scoring play in Tennessee history. He earned a bachelor's degree from Tennessee in 1976 and was drafted by the Tampa Bay Buccaneers that same year.

West played two years (1974-75) of baseball at Tennessee and had a career batting average of .305. He hit .367 in 1975 and was named All-SEC Eastern Division. Rick Honeycutt, now with the Oakland A's, was West's teammate on that 1975 Tennessee team that finished 32-16.

West was a multi-sport standout in high school. He was an outfielder in baseball, a guard in basketball and a running back in football. In 1972 he was named a High School All-American in football and was a fifth-round draft choice in baseball by the Chicago Cubs. Willie Randolph, who went on to an All-Star career with the New York Yankees, was one of 77 future Major League players drafted after West in the regular phase of the June 1972 draft. He played his prep football at Gainesville High in Gainesville, GA for Coach Bobby Gruhn. He was an all-state back as a junior and was also named to the All-Southern team.

Born Thomas Cleveland West on July 31, 1954, he is married to the former Lindsay Watkins of Forest City, NC. The couple has one son, Turner, 7.

ASSISTANT COACHES

Les Herrin

Les Herrin

Assistant Head Coach/Tackles and Tight Ends

The Clemson football program has seen a lot success during Les Herrin's tenure as an assistant coach. In 1981, Herrin arrived at Clemson as a linebacker coach, and the Tigers won the National Championship that season. In his first tour of duty with the Tigers (1981-84) Clemson had a 37-6-2 record.

After a brief stint away from Clemson at East Carolina (1985-87) and North Carolina (1988), Herrin returned to the Tiger program in 1989 as defensive line coach. In 1989 Clemson ranked fifth in the nation in scoring, rushing, and total defense. The team followed that performance with a number-one ranking in total defense in 1990, as well as second in scoring and rushing defense.

Herrin has coached several players who have had successful NFL careers. He coached 1981 ACC MVP Jeff Davis, who went on to be captain of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers and enters the Clemson Ring of Honor this year. He also tutored 1989 All-Pro Johnny Rembert (New England Patriots), who was a linebacker under Herrin's watchful eye in 1981 and 1982. Chester McGlockton, a Pro Bowl defensive lineman with the Los Angeles Raiders last year, and Pittsburgh Steelers 1994 rookie Brentson Buckner, also benefitted from Herrin's teaching.

The Les Herrin File

At Clemson: In his second season as assistant head coach, first season as an offensive line coach, and 11th season overall.

Personal: Born February 18, 1948...He and his wife Shirley have one son, Deke (19).

Miles Aldridge

Miles Aldridge

Co-Defensive Coordinator/ Outside Linebackers

Now in his second stint at Clemson, Miles Aldridge has been affiliated with five Clemson defenses that have ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring and rushing defense. He first came to Clemson in 1985 as an inside linebacker coach. From 1986 thru 1989 the Tigers were ranked in the top 20 in all defensive categories, including a number-five rating in 1989. His second tour of duty at Clemson began last year and the Tigers ranked 17th in the nation in scoring defense and 14th in rushing defense.

Clemson won three consecutive ACC titles during Aldridge's first stay at Clemson, 1986-87-88 and was ranked in the final AP top 20 in 1986-87-88-89. In his years at Clemson the Tigers have won five bowl games, including victories over Penn State and Oklahoma in consecutive Citrus Bowl games in the late 1980s.

Aldridge has coached several players who have gone on to have successful pro careers. Three linebackers have gone on to the NFL, Andre Townsend (Mississippi), Freddie Joe Dunn (Mississippi), and Ed McDaniel. McDaniel is currently a starter for the Minnesota Vikings.

The 1971 graduate of Gardner-Webb will coach the outside linebackers this year and serve as co-defensive coordinator.

The Miles Aldridge File

At Clemson: In his second full season involved in the coordination of the Clemson defense, his first as outside linebacker coach and his seventh full season as a Clemson assistant.

Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Chase High School (1971); defensive backs at Newberry High School (1972); College - Graduate assistant at East Tennessee State (1973); defensive line coach at East Tennessee State (1974-77); assistant coach at Wichita State (1978); assistant coach at Tulsa (1979); assistant coach at Mississippi (1980-82); assistant coach at Duke (1983-84); inside linebacker coach at Clemson (1985-89); outside linebacker coach at North Carolina State (1990); defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at South Carolina (1991-93); defensive coordinator at Clemson (Dec. 1993-94); co-defensive coordinator and outside linebacker coach at Clemson (1995).

Education: A.C. Flora High School in Columbia, SC; B.S. in Physical Education with a minor in Biology from Gardner-Webb (1971).

College Playing Experience: Lettered three years in football at Gardner Webb.

Personal Data: Born January 25, 1949...he and his wife Cathy have two daughters, Allison and Blakley.

Ellis Johnson

Ellis Johnson

Co-Defensive Coordinator/Defensive Line

Ellis Johnson is in his first season as a co-defensive coordinator, his first season as defensive line coach, but his second year on the Clemson staff. As outside linebacker coach last year he was a significant reason Clemson ranked in the top 20 in the nation in scoring defense and held three ACC teams, including Florida State, to their season low in terms of scoring.

Johnson is in just his second year at Clemson, but is no stranger to the area. He attended The Citadel, but he grew up a Clemson fan He has coached in the state at The Citadel as a graduate assistant, at Gaffney High as an assistant coach and at Spartanburg High as an assistant coach and head coach. His most successful stint in coaching so far took place in Alabama. In 1992 Johnson served an assistant coach at Alabama. The Crimson Tide experienced a perfect season and defeated Miami (FL) in the Sugar Bowl to win the National Championship. He is one of two Tiger assistant coaches on this year's staff with a National Championship ring. Les Herrin, a member of Clemson's 1981 staff, is the other.

Johnson was a part of four outstanding defenses at Alabama. During his tenure (1990-93), Alabama ranked in the top five in the nation in total defense and pass defense three times. The 1992 Alabama defense led the nation in total defense and rushing defense and ranked second nationally in passing defense and scoring defense.

The Ellis Johnson File

At Clemson: In his first season as co-coordinator and defensive line coach, his second season overall as a Clemson assistant.

Previous Coaching Experience: High School - Assistant coach at Gaffney High School (1976-78); assistant coach at Spartanburg High School (1979); head coach at Spartanburg High School (1980-81); College - Defensive end coach at The Citadel (1975); linebacker coach at The Citadel (1982); head coach at Gardner Webb (1983); defensive coordinator and inside linebacker coach at Appalachian State (1984); outside linebacker coach and recruiting coordinator at East Carolina (1985-87); defensive coordinator at Southern Mississippi (1988-89); outside linebacker coach at Alabama (1990-93); outside linebacker coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-94); co-coordinator of Clemson defense and defensive line coach (1995).

Education: Earned a degree in Secondary Education from The Citadel (1975).

College Playing Experience: Three-year letterman at The Citadel.

Personal Data: Born December 23, 1951...married to the former Tonya Taylor in August 1994.

Clyde Christensen

Clyde Christensen

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

An All-American quarterback in junior college, Clyde Christensen came to Clemson after two years at Maryland. He knows the ACC well as he also played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

At Maryland he coached quarterbacks John Kaleo and Scott Milanovich. Kaleo ranked second in the nation in total offense as a senior, while Milanovich ranked fourth nationally in that category in 1993. Last year the Clemson team ranked first in the nation in turnover margin and committed just 12 turnovers all season.

Christensen's offense at Maryland was explosive, as the Terps ranked fourth in the country in 1992 with an average of 466 yards per game, and 16th in 1993 when they averaged 440 yards per game. The Terps also ranked second in the country in passing offense in 1992 and third in passing offense in 1993.

While Christensen is in just his second year as a coach at Clemson, he has known Clemson head coach Tommy West for over 15 years. The two were graduate assistant coaches together at Mississippi in 1979. He is only 37-years-old, but already has college experience at Mississippi, East Tennessee State, Temple, East Carolina, Holy Cross, South Carolina and Maryland.

Christensen was a part of two successful teams at North Carolina, as the Tar Heels played in the 1977 Liberty Bowl and the 1978 Peach Bowl during his career.

The Clyde Christensen File

At Clemson: In his second season as co-offensive coordinator and quarterback coach.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Graduate assistant at Mississippi (1979); offensive coordinator at East Tennessee State (1980-82); quarterback and wide receiver coach at Temple (1983-85); offensive and recruiting coordinator at East Carolina (1986-88); receivers and tight ends coach at Holy Cross (1990); running backs coach at South Carolina (1991); quarterback coach at Maryland (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: B.S. in Industrial Relations from the University of North Carolina (1979).

College Playing Experience: All-America quarterback for Fresno City Junior College; played for the University of North Carolina in 1977 and 1978.

Personal Data: Born January 28,1958 in Corvina, CA...he and his wife Debbie have three children, Ruth (4), Rebecca (9), and Rachel (11).

Rick Stockstill

Rick Stockstill

Co-Offensive Coordinator/Wide Receivers

Rick Stockstill has been around successful programs and record setting offenses his entire coaching career. In his first year as quarterback coach at Clemson (1989), the Tigers set a school record for completion percentage (60%). The Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in total offense for the 1991 season, and Clemson gained the second most yards in school history in the process.

Stockstill also tutored productive offenses at Central Florida and Bethune-Cookman in his early years as a football coach. As a player, he was the starting quarterback for Florida State. He guided the Seminoles to a pair of Orange Bowl appearances, a pair of top 10 rankings, and was the team captain in 1981.

It is no surprise that Stockstill has moved up the coaching ladder so swiftly because he is the product of an athletic family. His father has been head coach at Fernandina Beach High School in Florida for many years. His brother, Jeff, was a starting wide receiver for the Tigers in 1982, a reserve on the National Championship team of 1981.

Stockstill is in his seventh year with the Clemson program and the Tigers have been to bowl games in four of the six previous seasons. He joins Les Herrin and Whitey Jordan as the only assistant coaches in Clemson history to serve under three different head coaches.

The Rick Stockstill File

At Clemson: In his second season as co-offensive coordinator and is in his seventh season with the Tigers.

Previous Coaching Experience: College - Offensive coordinator and quarterback coach at Bethune-Cookman College (1983-84); assistant head coach and wide receiver coach at the University of Central Florida (1985-88); quarterback coach at Clemson (1989-1993); passing game coordinator at Clemson (1992-93); co-offensive coordinator and wide receiver coach (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: Fernandina Beach High School in Fernandina Beach, FL (1977); B.S. degree in Physical Education from Florida State (1982).

College Playing Experience: Earned three letters in football from Florida State. Captain of 1981 Florida State team.

Personal Data: Born December 23, 1959...he and his wife Sarah were married on July 7, 1990, and had their first child, Brent Forrest, in August, 1994.

Richard Bisaccia

Richard Bisaccia

Running Backs/Special Teams/Recruiting Coordinator

Richard Bisaccia is a stickler for detail and one of the details he works on in practice with his players every day is holding on to the football. He taught this aspect better than any assistant coach in the country last year because the Tigers lost just two fumbles, fewest in the nation and an all-time Clemson record.

Bisaccia, a Yonkers, NY native, learned how to hold onto the football as a four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College. He was a free agent with the Philadelphia Stars of the USFL after his college career.

While the 1983 Spring season saw the end of his playing career, the 1983 fall was the beginning of his coaching career. He was named the offensive coordinator at Wayne State in Nebraska his first year out of college and he has been in college coaching ever since.

Unlike many Division I full-time assistant coaches, Bisaccia has not made a lot of moves. He spent five seasons at Wayne State, then six seasons at South Carolina. He has experience coaching on defense and offense, but will concentrate on the running backs position at Clemson.

Bisaccia probably wears more hats than any other Clemson coach. In addition to his time with the running backs, he is also the special teams coach and the recruiting coordinator.

In addition to Bisaccia's changes on the gridiron the last year, he had a family addition. In August of 1994 his wife Jeanne gave birth to their first son, Richard Oakley, and fourth child.

The Richard Bisaccia File

At Clemson: In his second season as the Tigers' running backs coach and special teams coach.

Previous Coaching Expereince: College - Offensive coordinator at Wayne State (NE) (1983-87); graduate assistant for wide receivers at South Carolina (1988); volunteer assistant for defensive ends at South Carolina (1989-90); tight ends coach at South Carolina (1991); running backs and special teams coach at South Carolina (1992-93); running backs and special teams coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).

Education: New Fairfield High School in New Fairfield, CT; Earned a degree in health and physical education from Yankton College (1983).

College Playing Experience: Four-year starter and team captain at Yankton College (1980-83).

Personal Data: Born June 3, 1960...he and his wife Jeanne have four children: daughters, Michele (11), Elizabeth (6), and Madeline (2) and son Richard Oakley (1).

Charlie Harbison

Charlie Harbison

Defensive Backs

First-year Clemson coach Charlie Harbison has more experience at the professional level than any other current Tiger mentor. Harbison was a starter at strong safety with the New Orleans and Boston Breakers of the USFL in 1983-84 and also signed a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills in 1982, 1985 and 1986.

Harbison also coached on the pro level with the Raleigh-Durham Skyhawks of the World League of American Football, with the Charlotte Barons of the MLFS and with the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League. He has coached wide receivers, linebackers and defensive backs in his career, but has by far his most experience as a secondary coach.

He will be Clemson's defensive backs coach in 1995, his second consecutive year as a Division I secondary coach. In 1994 he coached the secondary at UTEP. This season he will have the opportunity to enhance the careers of a veteran secondary led by preseason All-American Brian Dawkins.

In addition to his Division I experience, Harbison also has had significant success at the NAIA level. His Gardner Webb team of 1992 had a 12-2 record and played in the NAIA Championship game.

The Charlie Harbison File

At Clemson: In his first year as secondary coach.
Education: Received bachelors degree in business administration from Gardner-Webb College.
Playing Experience—Professional—Boston Breakers (1983), New Orleans Breakers (1984), Buffalo Bills (preseason 1982, 1985-86). College: 3-year letter winner at Gardner-Webb 1979-81.
Personal Data: Born October 27, 1959. He and his wife, Dana, have two sons, Charlie and Stedman.

Reggie Herring

Reggie Herring

Inside Linebackers

Reggie Herring is another example of an outstanding former player who has gone on to become an outstanding coach. A teammate of Rick Stockstill at Florida State, Herring left his own mark with the Seminole program as a player.

Herring was captain of the 1980 Orange Bowl team and earned AP All-America honors in 1980. The Seminoles played in the Orange Bowl and ranked in the top 10 in the nation his junior and senior seasons, and he was recently inducted into the Florida State Hall of Fame. He was a three-year starter at Florida State and the Seminoles played in three bowls during his four year career. Florida State also had three double-figure victory seasons during his career.

Like many of Clemson's assistant coaches in 1995, Herring has a diverse experience. He has been a part of successful programs at Oklahoma State, Auburn, TCU and now Clemson. He was defensive coordinator at TCU prior to coming to Clemson.

Herring has not made plans over the Christmas holidays for quite some time. He has been a part of college football as a player and coach since 1977. In those 18 seasons he has been to 13 bowl games, 10 as a coach and three as a player.

The Reggie Herring File

At Clemson: In his second season as inside linebackers coach.
Previous Coaching Experience: College - Linebacker coach at Oklahoma State (1981-85); linebacker coach at Auburn (1986-91); defensive coordinator and linebacker coach at Texas Christian (1992-93); inside linebacker coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).
Education: B.S. in Criminology from Florida State (1981).
College Playing Experience: Three-year starter at linebacker for Florida State.
Personal Data: Born on July 3, 1959...married the former Lisa Ward, and they have two children, Caroline and Adam.

John Latina

John Latina

Centers and Guards

John Latina has been an offensive coach for a Division I program every year since 1979. He had quite a task last year in that he coached Clemson's entire offensive line. This year he will handle the centers and guards, a change that should allow him to spend more time with fewer players.

Latina showed his expertise as a teacher last year as Clemson's youngest offensive line in 20 years improved over the course of the season, leading to victories in three of the last four games.

The Virginia Tech graduate, who once played against Clemson as an offensive guard (1978), has worked at Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Temple and Kansas State. He has already coached in a bowl game with four different schools, Virginia Tech, Pittsburgh, Kansas State and Clemson.

During his career he has worked with Dan Marino, who led the Panthers to a 9-3 ledger and the Cotton Bowl in 1982. Paul Palmer, one of the top rushers in NCAA history with Temple, was also a member of Latina's offense in the 1980s.

Over the five years he was with the program, Kansas State's team in general and offense in particular, showed as much improvement as any in the country. In Latina's second season at Kansas State as offensive line coach and running game coordinator, the Wildcats set a school record for total offense with 4,231 yards. Kansas State advanced to a bowl game in 1992, just the second bowl appearance in school history.

The John Latina File

At Clemson: In his first season as guards and centers coach, his second season at Clemson.
Previous Coaching Experience: College - Assistant coach at Virginia Tech (1979-81); assistant coach at Pittsburgh (1982); offensive line coach at Temple (1983-88); running game coordinator at Kansas State (1989-93); offensive line coach at Clemson (Dec. 1993-present).
Education: Received a bachelor's degree from Virginia Tech (1979).
College Playing Experience: Four-year letter winner at Virginia Tech as an offensive guard (1975-78).
Personal Data: Born September 18, 1957...he and his wife Michele have two sons John Jr. (11) and Michael (8).

Clemson Sports Notes For 1994-95

*Clemson was one of just four schools in the nation to have its football, men's basketball and baseball teams rank in the top 25 of the USA Today polls at one time or another during the season. Clemson was ranked as high as 22nd in football, 18th in men's basketball and number-one in baseball. Five programs ended the year ranked in the top 20 in the nation.

*Five Clemson athletic teams were chosen for NCAA Tournaments, including three Spring Sports. The Baseball team was chosen for the ninth straight year, while the men's tennis team was chosen for the 14th time during Chuck Kriese's 20 years. The golf team advanced to the NCAA national tournament for the 14th consecutive year. The women's soccer and volleyball teams were also chosen for NCAA play.

Duane Ross won Clemson's only National Championship, winning the Outdoor NCAA 110 hurdles. Bob Pollock coached the men's outdoor and indoor track teams to Top 15 finishes.

Academic Achievements

*Clemson had two first-team Academic All-Americans, one in baseball and one in football. Ed Glenn was a first-team CFA All-America football player. He graduated with a 3.9 GPA in Biology and will attend Vanderbilt Med School. Junior third baseman Paul Galloway became Clemson's first first-team Academic All-American in baseball in 1995. He was also first-team All-East Regional and All-ACC Tournament for his play on the field. He has had six consecutive 4.0 semesters.

*Clemson athletes won three of the most prestigious awards granted by the Atlantic Coast Conference. Javelin thrower Jodie Phillips won the Marie James Award, which is given to a female athlete for outstanding achievement in academics and athletics. Glenn won the Weaver Award for outstanding achievement in academics and athletics, and also won the Jim Tatum Award as the top student-athlete football player in the ACC.

*The women's tennis team posted a 3.64 team GPA in the Spring semester, the highest team GPA for a semester in Clemson history. Six of the eight members of the team made the dean's list, including four with a perfect 4.0.

*All Clemson student-athletes combined for a 2.55 GPA in the Spring semester, the highest one-semester GPA in eight years. A record 20 student-athletes were on the President's List (4.0 GPA), and a record 53 were on the Dean's List for the Spring semester of 1994-95.

Coaching Accomplishments

*Women's soccer coach Tracey Leone was named Southeast Regional Coach of the Year. She led the Lady Tigers to a number-13 final ranking in the ISAA poll and 15th in the final Soccer America poll.

*Baseball Coach Jack Leggett was named ACC Coach of the Year for the second straight year. He became just the third coach in ACC history to win coach of the year honors in his first two years in the league. All three coaches who have done this are from Clemson. The others are current Clemson men's track coach Bob Pollock and former Clemson football coach Charlie Pell.

*Jolene Hoover was named ACC Volleyball Coach of the Year as she took the Lady Tigers to the NCAA Tournament for the second straight year.

*Chuck Kriese became the ACC's all-time winningest men's tennis coach with a 7-0 win over Virginia Tech on February 4. He now has 439 career victories in his 20 years as head coach.

*Larry Penley set a Clemson record for taking a team to 12 straight NCAA Tournaments and won his third straight NCAA Regional championship.

PALMETTOEXPO CENTER

James H. Woodside Conference Center

Hosts of this year's most exciting conference action.

For a winning conference, trade show, banquet or meeting, make the handoff to Palmetto Expo Center. We're set to tackle special events of any size or scope. Our starting lineup includes 420,000 square feet of meeting and exhibit space, an outdoor courtyard, and banquet seating and service for up to 2,500 people. To set your game plan in motion, we field special teams for catering, light and sound, and event staging. For conference action, Palmetto Expo Center is an odds-on favorite.

Textile Hall Corporation is the proud donor of the Textile Bowl Trophy, presented each year to the winner of the Clemson-North Carolina State game in honor of the textile graduates of these two fine universities.

Saluting 100 years of Tiger Football.

MEMORIAL STADIUM

The legend of Death Valley continues in 1995 as 16 football games will be played on its surface. Clemson will play its normal six regular season contests, while the Carolina Panthers will play in the facility 10 times, two preseason contests and eight regular season games.

What does the NFL's presence mean in 1995? If the stadium is good enough for the Carolina Panthers, it must be quite a facility. In fact, minimal changes have been made to make it ready for the Panthers and the National Football League.

This outstanding stadium that has kept pace with the changing world of college football has seen the Tigers run up a 53-year record of 184-67-7, including a 26-5-1 ledger over the last five seasons. Clemson had a 16-game unbeaten streak at home between 1990-92 and has a career winning ratio of 73.0 percent.

The stadium has definitely been good to the Tigers who call it home, but the stadium was constructed against the advice of at least one Clemson coach. Just before head coach Jess Neely left for Rice University after the 1939 season, he gave Clemson a message. "Don't ever let them talk you into building a big stadium," he said. "Put about 10,000 seats behind the Y.M.C.A. That's all you'll ever need'.

Instead of following Coach Neely's advice, however, Clemson officials decided to build the new stadium in a valley on the western part of campus. The place would take some clearing-there were many trees, but luckily there were no hedges.

The crews went to work: clearing, cutting, pouring, and forming. Finally, on September 19, 1942, Clemson Memorial Stadium opened with the Tiger Football team thrashing Presbyterian College, 32-13. Those 20,000 seats installed for Opening Day would soon grow; and grow and grow.

When the original part of the stadium was built in the early 40's, much of the work was done by scholarship athletes, including many football players. The first staking out of the stadium was done by two members of the football team, A.N. Cameron and Hugh Webb. Webb returned to Clemson years later to be an architecture professor, and Cameron went on to become a civil engineer in Louisiana.

The building of the stadium did not proceed without a few problems. One day during the clearing of the land, one young football player proudly announced that he was not allergic to poison oak. He then commenced to attack the poison oak with a swing blade, throwing the plants to and fro. The next day, however, the boy was swollen twice his size and had to be put in the hospital.

There are many other stories about the stadium including one stating that Frank Howard put a chew of tobacco in each corner of the stadium as the concrete poured.

Howard says that the seeding of the grass caused a few problems. "About 40 people and I laid sod on the field," he says. "After three weeks, on July 15, we had only gotten halfway through.

"I told them that it had taken us three weeks to get that far, and I would give them three more week's pay for however long it took. I also told them we would have 50 gallons of ice cream when we got through. After that it took them three days to do the rest of the field. Then we sat down in the middle of the field and ate up that whole 50 gallons."

Howard says that on the first day of the first game in the stadium, "the gates were hung at 1:00 pm and we played at 2:00 pm." But that would be all of the construction for a while. Then in 1958, 18,000 sideline seats were added and, in 1960, a total of 5,658 West end zone seats were added in response to increasing attendance. With the large end zone, "Green Grass" section, this expansion increased capacity to about 53,000.

Later, upper decks were added to each side of the stadium as crowds swelled-the first one in 1978 and the second in 1983. This increased capacity to over 81,473 which makes it one of the 10 largest on-campus stadiums in the country.

The effect spiraling inflation has had in this century can be dramatically seen in the differences in stadium construction. The original part of the stadium was built at a cost of $125,000 or at $6.25 a seat. The newest upper deck was finished in 1983 at a cost of $13.5 million, or $866 a seat.

Through the years, Memorial Stadium has become known as "Death Valley." It was tagged this by the late Presbyterian coach, Lonnie McMillan. After bringing his P.C. Teams to Clemson for years and getting whipped, McMillan said the place was like Death Valley. A few years later the name stuck.

Clemson has ranked in the Top 15 in the nation in attendance for 13 straight years.

VICKERY HALL

Clemson University's commitment to provide its student-athletes with the very best of facilities is evident in many ways. From the soaring upper decks of Memorial Stadium, to the state-of-the-art strength training facility, young men and women from all 18 of Clemson's varsity sports have the very best in facilities for training and competition. Vickery Hall is no exception, as the $3 million structure is as impressive aesthetically as any of the other facilities. But the importance of Vickery Hall to the Clemson University Athletic Department is not found in the structure itself, but in the many programs that the building houses.

Vickery Hall opened in the spring of 1991 and is the first facility in the nation originally constructed for the purposes of meeting the comprehensive needs of student-athletes. The two-story, 27,000-square-foot building is open throughout the day and into the evening to accommodate the extended schedules of student-athletes, and consolidates a variety of academic services for their use.

The Vickery Hall facility and staff ranks among the best in the nation and joined Boston College as the only two programs of its kind to become certified in 1995.

The philosophy behind Vickery Hall is to provide the Clemson student-athlete with a program that will meet his or her needs academically, in personal growth and development, and with career assistance. Vickery Hall is tangible evidence that, at Clemson, the athletic department has made a commitment to make the student-athlete's total experience a rewarding one, even after he or she enters the professional world.

"Vickery Hall is one of the most important facilities the Clemson University Athletic Department has ever built or will ever build. It makes a philosophical statement about the institutional commitment - giving our student-athletes the same opportunity to achieve their full potential academically that we give them athletically. We're very serious about that," said Athletic Director Bobby Robinson.

Vickery Hall is located in the mainstream of east campus, behind Jordan Hall at the top of Bryan Mall. The main entrance to the building is a 1,570-square foot reception/office area, comprised of five advisers' offices, two graduate student offices, and a conference room. Also located on the bottom floor is the office of Bill D'Andrea, the director of Clemson's student-athlete enrichment program.

Vickery Hall operates under the guidelines and policies of the university and the center's staff adheres strictly to the rules and ethical conduct standards of the university. In addition to the director, the staff also consists of six full-time advisers, two graduate assistants, and 50 tutors.

The building also boasts a 175-seat auditorium to be used for classes, team meetings, review sessions, and seminars. The various speakers and lecturers who come to work with Clemson student-athletes as part of the student-enrichment program also use this facility.

Another area of the main floor, the computer resources area, consists of a general computer tutoring room and a computer science tutoring room. The computer room contains 30 personal computers for hands-on computer tutoring, word processing and other general uses.

The 13,000-square-foot study and tutoring area on the second floor comprises the majority of the center. This area contains 28 tutorial rooms, including a large 65-seat study room and nine 20-seat study rooms, which are designed as classrooms with freestanding desks. There are 10 classrooms located on the first floor.

The facility has paid dividends. In the spring semester of 1995, Clemson student-athletes recorded a 2.55 GPA, highest on record. Eighty-three student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll in 1994-95, an all-time record. Records were also eclipsed in terms of dean's list athletes. It is also a reason a record four Tiger football players are graduate students in 1995.

The facilities at Vickery Hall helped Warren Forney earn his undergrad degree in 3 1/2 years.

Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program

The Student-Athlete Career Assistance Program is one of the most important programs provided by the staff of Vickery Hall. The philosophy of this program is to provide student-athletes with job searching skills and strategies, internships, practicum experience as well as summer employment. These programs are designed to address specific career opportunities through a program that uses each year to gain information on the student-athlete.

By using the resources available to the University, Alumni Center and the Athletic Department, former Tiger gridder James Earle is working to establish a network of businesses, companies, and executives who will help assist with The Summer Employment Assistance Program. The program's main goal is to provide the student-athlete with a job experience and a work history, which he or she can apply to his or her academic discipline.

The Long Term Career Assistance Program, also coordinated by Earle, will be coordinated from the academic colleges, the Placement Center, and through the Athletic Department contacts. This program is designed to better prepare the student-athlete for full-time employment and will focus on resume writing and interview techniques so that each student-athlete will be competitive and aggressive when dealing with companies who visit the Clemson campus.

Personal Growth Program

Another aspect of Clemson University's commitment to help student-athletes reach their potential in all areas of their life - academically, athletically, and socially, is the personal growth program. This program is one of the many purposes of Vickery Hall. This particular area of student development is designed to enhance and support the lives of student-athletes during their enrollment in college as well as in their life experiences after graduation.

Ginty Porter, the Development Coordinator, and Vickery Hall staff realize that student-athletes have more obligations than a regular college student. The personal growth program seeks to eliminate some of the stresses of adjustment to the higher level of academics and athletics. It is the groups special task to assist the student-athlete by creating a finely tuned balance of all areas to ensure success in obtaining a Clemson University degree, by supporting successful athletic practice and competition, enhancing personal growth, and helping with the transition to life after college.

PATRICK SAPP

By Brenda Rabon

Remember when your mother told you that everything in life happens for a reason even if you don't know why? As the 1995 Clemson Tiger football season moves into full swing, no one believes this old adage more than Patrick Sapp. Even though this 250-pound Tiger has probably made one of the most difficult transitions of a football player's career, he proclaims he is living the happiest days of his life.

This Tiger has been an off and on starter at quarterback for Clemson for the past three years. However, as Sapp enters his senior year, he begins a new chapter in his collegiate football career. Sapp, who is listed as first team outside linebacker for the 1995 season, had some success at the quarterback position over the past three years throwing for over 2,000 yards. In fact, he ranks 10th on Clemson's all-time passing yardage list with 2,278 yards.

He still stands as one of just four players in Clemson history to have at least three 200-yard passing games in his Clemson career and is the only player in Clemson history to record three consecutive games of at least 200 yards of total offense. Really! Steve Fuller, Mike Eppley, Homer Jordan, Rodney Williams, Bobby Gage, no other quarterback in Clemson history has done that.

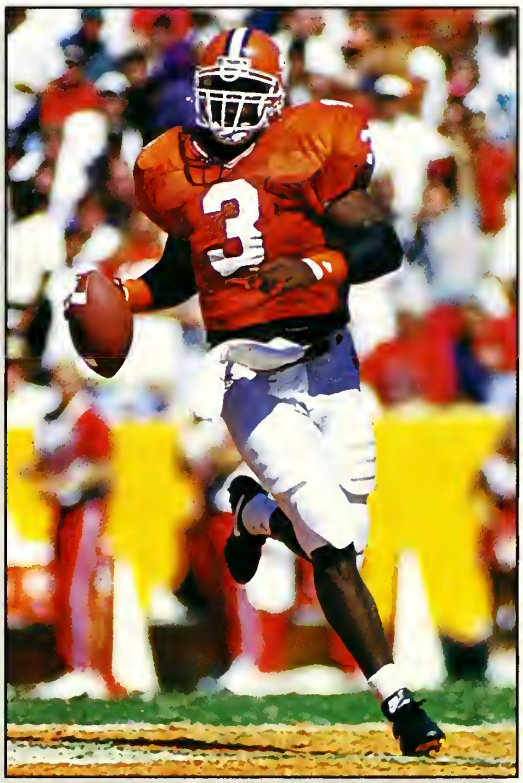
Additionally, Sapp is the co-holder of the Clemson record for completions in a game with 25 at Maryland in 1992. He also ranks eighth in career attempts, eighth in career completions, 12th in percentage, second in interception avoidance and 15th in touchdown passes.

With success such as this, why did Sapp choose to move to the other side of the ball and join defensive play for the first time in his football career? Sapp recalls, "I really didn't want to play quarterback anymore because I had too many ups and downs, so I told Coach West I wanted to play outside linebacker. At first, he was a little hesitant because going from offense to defense is a big change.

"It takes a certain kind of person to play quarterback. Everybody cannot play that position. I think I could have done it, but I don't think it was really meant for me to be a quarterback. Things happen in life for a reason. It was time to move on and play something else. Outside linebacker is the position I feel I am best suited for. I am pleased with where I am on the team and with how my career has been here at Clemson. I am the happiest I have ever been."

Sapp realizes sometimes things occur so you will have the courage to move on. "I finally realized something wasn't right. That's why I stepped up and told Coach West I didn't want to play quarterback anymore. It is a tough decision to put down your dream and realize it is not for you. But, it has been a good decision so far."

The change from offensive play to defensive play was completely Sapp's idea. Coach West promised Sapp a fair chance to play the position he wished to play. Sapp went to Head Coach Tommy West one day and said, "Coach, I want to help the team. I want to play somewhere. I can't sit on the sidelines and not contribute."



Sapp is the only quarterback in Clemson history to record three consecutive 200-yard total offense games.

This meeting took place during the 1994 season, and West told Sapp that receiver would be the easiest position for him to learn at the time. Sapp moved to receiver for the last three games of the season, then moved to outside linebacker in spring practice. After the first couple of days of spring practice, Coach West saw how well Sapp was doing and told him that the position of outside linebacker was his if he continued to work hard and improve.

"Patrick has surprised us with his ability to make the adjustment," said West. "It is a different mentality when you go from being hit to doing the hitting. But, Patrick is an excellent athlete and has worked hard in the off season to get in shape for the position. It is a credit to him that he has worked this hard. He is a rock solid 250 pounds who can run very well.

"He has done well playing against our offense, I hope he can adjust when he goes against something he hasn't seen before. If he does, he could have a great season."

Sapp passed the first test last week with three tackles, including a sack, and two quarterback pressures. During spring action, Sapp shocked himself and some others with his aggressive play at outside linebacker. "I surprised myself because I didn't really think I would do as well as I did. But once I started to get the feel of it, day by day I did a little better and learned a little more. Finally, I got the confidence that I could do this. This is for me! Once I realized that, I have been going one hundred miles per hour ever since."

At 6-4 and 250 pounds, Sapp racked up a team best four sacks in the four spring scrimmages, two caused fumbles, and 18 total tackles. In the Spring Game, he recorded seven tackles, including a sack—impressive statistics for someone who has never before played defense.

Over the summer, Sapp has been physically and mentally preparing himself for his new position. Included in this preparation has been lifting weights, running, and performing linebacker drills.

Sapp looks at the switch from taking hits as a quarterback to giving out hits as a linebacker as more enjoyable. "Playing outside linebacker is the most fun I have had since I have been in college. I've had the chance to run around, cut it loose, have fun, and just be me. I feel more comfortable in this position."

However, having quarterback experience does give Sapp an edge over most other defensive players. "When the offense comes to the line of scrimmage, I can evaluate the personnel and the kind of formations that they have. Then, I can closely predict if they are going to pass the ball or run the ball. Because I have been a quarterback, I can predict what he is trying to do by reading his eyes and other movements. This has been my edge throughout spring ball and pre-fall practice."

Sapp attributes some of the help he has had adapting to this position change to other defensive players and coaches. "The guys have taught me the defensive mentality you must have to get up and play tough defense. Coach (Ellis) Johnson helped me in the spring when I first began playing the position, and now Coach (Miles) Aldridge coaches me. He stays on me all day and every day and has helped me make the necessary changes."

Sapp worked hard in the off season to convert his body from a quarterback to a linebacker. He is trying to become just the fifth Tiger since 1965 to be a season starter on both sides of the ball over the course of his career.

Sapp Making Rare Switch

The Clemson linebacker position was wiped out by the graduation of four superb players, Tim Jones, Michael Barber, Darnell Stephens and Wardell Rouse. All have made NFL rosters with the exception of Jones, who suffered a knee injury in training camp.

Although Clemson does not have a returning starter at linebacker, Tommy West does have a player at linebacker who has been a starter before....at quarterback. Patrick Sapp will try to become just the fifth Clemson player to serve as a starter over the course of a season on either side of the ball over the course of his career. Since the two-platoon system went into effect in 1965, only Bobby Johnson, now the coach at Furman, Don Kelley, Steve Gibbs and Jeff Wells have been a starter for an entire season on offense one year and on defense another.

Players who have Started on Both Sides of the Ball for a Season over their Career

Player	Offense	Defense
Bobby Johnson	1970, Flanker	1971-72, Def. Back
Don Kelley	1971, Flanker	1969-70, Def. Back
Steve Gibbs	1974, Split End	1978, Def. End
Jeff Wells	1980, Tight End	1984, Def. End

Another stepping stone that made the transition easier was Sapp's stint as a reserve forward on the 1994-95 Clemson basketball squad. "Basketball helped me out a great deal—especially on defense. A lot of lateral movement is involved in basketball and that's basically the side-to-side movement used in defensive football play."

Sapp joined Rick Barnes's first Clemson team in December. Although he played in just a few games, he made significant contributions in practice and it helped him get ready for spring football practice.

"Playing basketball definitely helped me stay in shape. I was in the best physical shape I have ever been in going into spring practice. Even though lifting weights for basketball is a different kind of lifting that requires more endurance than power, it helps to have endurance on defense in order to play for 60 to 70 snaps in a game. It helps my muscles last a lot longer, so I can be stronger in the fourth quarter."

Confidence can take you to the greatest heights, and Sapp feels that the confidence he has gained from playing a position in which he feels comfortable will take him to the next level. "I feel like this position is for me, and I have a future in football. The confidence I have now will help me play with more excitement and enthusiasm." One scouting service ranked Sapp as the 16th best outside linebacker prospect in the upcoming draft. That certainly shows the respect people have for Sapp's athletic ability. Could he join the ranks of Clemson linebackers in the NFL next year? The Tigers have seven on NFL rosters this fall.

"I've hung in there and given Clemson all I can, through the good times and the bad and never turned my back on anyone or anything. I've always been positive and done the best I could. I think if you do that, fans and people in general will notice and stand behind me and our football team."

"I have a lot of respect for Patrick Sapp," said Tommy West. "He didn't hang his head in the offseason when he moved to linebacker, he worked harder and has had a great outlook on the experience. Now he is in the starting lineup. That is a credit to his perseverance."

Maybe mothers speak the truth after all. Everything does happen for a reason—even if we don't see it at the time. Patrick Sapp had some ups and downs during the past three years as a Clemson quarterback, but now he reaps the benefits as the Tigers starting outside linebacker. Life was rough, but Sapp had the courage to move on. Today as the 1995 Tiger football season swings into full force, you will see the radiant smile of Patrick Sapp as he cuts loose and has the time of his life.

INSPIRATION FOR YOUR NEXT EVENT

Successful meetings and events need grand inspiration, and the Clyde Madren Continuing Education and Conference Center at Clemson University is truly inspiring. Set along the shores of scenic Lake Hartwell and surrounded by an 18-hole championship golf course, the Madren Center is a meeting place that promises to take you out of the ordinary. With 17,000 square feet of meeting and function space, the center provides the space and versatility to give your educational symposium, association workshop, corporate seminar or special event just what it needs. And, if nourishing the body as well as the mind is on the agenda, Seasons restaurant and Joe's Place lounge offer something for every taste.

He's Never Taken An Extra Point For Granted.
If the game is close, maybe you'll slide to the edge of your seat as the kicker sets up for the extra point. Maybe.
But perhaps you don't realize just how important every point is to someone like Matthew.
Matthew knows everything there is to know about child abuse. He's seen it and he's felt it. He is an expert at hiding in the closet, under the bed and beneath the house. But for the first time in his life, Matthew is learning what it's like to be loved.
For every point Clemson scores this season, First Union will donate $25 to Helping Hands of Clemson, a non-profit organization of professionals and volunteers dedicated to helping and caring for a lot of children just like Matthew.
So, this year when you're cheering for the Tigers, cheer a little louder for Matthew. Everyone at First Union will be.
If you'd like to do more than stand on the sidelines, please contact Helping Hands of Clemson at 1-803-654-6154.

ENDOWED POSITIONS

by Chris Metzler

In April of 1994, IPTAY kicked off the beginning of the endowment of positions program at the 85th birthday celebration for former Clemson Coach Frank Howard. The endowments are secure with a $100,000 donation paid over a five year period.

"This is a chance to broaden the horizons of IPTAY," said Executive Director of IPTAY George Bennett. "It gives an individual or a group of people an opportunity to endow a position that meant something during their college playing days or to honor a person at a position. The money being endowed is going to secure our future as the interest is used to carry on our program forever.

"Fans interested in seeing IPTAY and Clemson athletics succeed down the road now have the perfect means to do that. They can create endowments which can't be touched. This is a way to ensure that the programs they are in favor of are continued. It has been institutionalized at several colleges, and it seemed to be a natural thing to do at Clemson. We have the people that are very supportive and are willing to take part."

The first endowment was for the head football coach position to honor the legendary Frank Howard. Howard coached football at Clemson 39 years, 30 as the head coach. During his tenure the Tigers won 165 games, 100 of which were against conference foes. He also won eight conference championships, six bowl games and was inducted into the National Football Hall of Fame in 1989.

"Former players and friends of Coach Howard made donations over the cost of attending the celebration program which was enough for the endowment. Their gifts were a way of permanently thanking Coach Howard for all that he did for Clemson.

"Following Coach Howard's birthday party we began to look for an individual to help us support and promote the program and Bill Hudson's name came up. He was an outstanding player at Clemson who has been equally successful in the business world.

"We went to him and explained to him the program and its goals and that we were looking for his leadership to help get the program going and he accepted."

"Clemson has been good to our family and I have been fortunate in business, which allowed me to be involved in this program," said former Clemson tackle Bill Hudson. "Two of my brothers, my son, and I came to Clemson on a scholarship. The entire family is grateful so I put the endowment of the tackle position in the family's name."

Bill Hudson, a 1956 graduate, was a three year letter winner at tackle who played professionally for the Montreal Alouettes, the San Diego Chargers, and the Boston Patriots. He earned Pro Bowl honors in 1962.

His brother Bob was also a lineman at Clemson who lettered four straight years and played over 10 years professionally. Ironically the two brothers, who graduated six years apart from one another played against one another in the pros. Bob graduated in 1950. The third brother J.C., who graduated in 1952, was a three-year letterman who went on to have a successful career as a high school coach. Alex who played tackle for three seasons at Clemson, graduated in 1984.

"We have a foundation in academics and it is something special to get a letter of thanks from a student who received a scholarship through our donation. That's a great feeling so we were willing to do a similar thing for the athletic department. The permanency of this is what makes this so important, it will be around much longer than I am. Future generations of my family will be able to enjoy and contribute to our endowment."

Mr. Hudson sees this program growing into a large part of Clemson's athletic funding. "When other people see information on the endowment program and learn what it is about I feel this program will grow, success builds on success. People that are looking to honor a friend or family member now have a great means to do that. Already seven positions have been endowed so it is off to a great start in less than a year."

Besides the Hudson's family endowment five other football endowments have been made and one managers position. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Merritt endowed the wide receiver position in honor of Perry Tuttle, the All-American receiver who still holds many records at Clemson. David and Stan Riggs endowed the quarterback position and Ray Clayton endowed the offensive guard in the single wing formation. An anonymous donor endowed the single wing right guard in honor of Walter Cox. Recently, another anonymous donor endowed the kicking position.

"An anonymous donor wanted to honor Walter Cox," said Bennett. "He said that he meant a great deal to him as a student and was a great football player. The person wanted a way to repay him so he endowed his position."

The only non-football endowment to date was made by Eddie Dalton in honor of the men's basketball managers position.

The goal of the program is to get every position endowed.

"From the free safety to the number three player in women's tennis, we hope to have every position endowed. We will likely use the Avenue of Champions as a physical place to honor these people further. It will have plenty of space, so we will be working to have as many endowments across all of our sports.

"The personal satisfaction that they helped Clemson University, specifically the Athletic department, and that they are securing its future are the main reasons for becoming involved." And with more involvement Clemson will have a very secure future for generations to come.

The family of former Clemson star Bill Hudson was the first to endow a position on the Clemson football team.

All For You!

Did You Know . . . ?

You are sitting in one of the ten largest on-campus football stadiums in the country.

At the end of the "Clemson Alma Mater," the waving of your right hand is a holdover from the days of the cadets — they waved their hats.

That's where the swoop of the arm comes from in the spelling of C-L-E-M-S-O-N at the end of "Tiger Rag," too — the cadets tossed their hats in the air.

Howard's Rock was brought back from Death Valley, California, and given to Frank Howard in the mid-60s by a 1919 Clemson grad.

The first official rubbing of the Rock was prior to the 1967 Wake Forest game, which Clemson went on to win 23-6.

The now famous Clemson Tiger Paw is a real pug print from a plaster cast of a tiger in the Museum of Natural History in Chicago.

In the 10 years of the Clemson/USC blood drive competition, Clemson holds the record of 8-2.

Tigerama is one of the largest pep rallies in the United States — with up to 40,000 cheering fans.

MICHAEL DEAN PERRY

By Cobb Oxford

It was just an NFL preseason game, but the cheers were regular-season quality for former Tiger great Michael Dean Perry.

Perry came home to Death Valley on August 12, and he even wore orange for his homecoming party against the expansion Carolina Panthers. Perry, in his first year with the Denver Broncos after seven seasons with the Cleveland Browns, played approximately two-and-a half quarters in Denver's 19-10 loss to the upstart Panthers.

When Perry, a 6-foot-1, 285 pound defensive tackle, was introduced to the steam-baked crowd of 57,000 plus, the boisterous cheer provided the only breeze of the evening. Game time temperatures were in the mid-90s and the heat index on the field was a toasty 120 degrees.

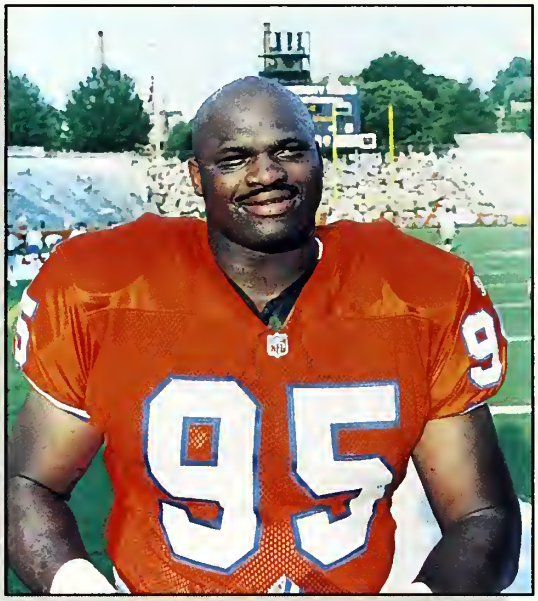
"I got a nice, warm reception," said Perry, a first-team All-American and Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year as a senior in 1987. "It wasn't Clemson Tiger fans, but it was nice of the Carolina fans. I enjoyed the experience of coming back here and playing again. I don't think there was too much difference between this crowd and a Clemson crowd.

"I think there were a lot of Clemson fans here tonight. They were very supportive of their team. It showed. They were into the game from start to finish. The crowd was always very supportive. It didn't seem like a whole lot had changed except I dressed in the visitor's locker room."

At Clemson, Perry set ACC records for tackles for loss (61) and sacks (28), breaking records that had been set by his brother, William Perry. Michael Dean led the Tigers in sacks with 10 in 1987, tying a Clemson single season record that still stands today. He led a Clemson defense that finished the year ranked fifth in the nation in total defense, second in rushing defense and 13th in scoring defense. Clemson finished the 1987 season with a 10-2 record, including a 35-10 victory over Penn State in the Citrus Bowl.

At the end of the 1987 season Perry was named a first-team All-American, ACC MVP and was one of three finalists for the Outland Trophy. He played in the Hula Bowl and the Japan Bowl and was the number-50 selection by the Cleveland Browns in the NFL draft.

With all the success Perry had at Clemson, it is interesting that a game his freshman year is his most memorable. "The memories I have of playing at Clemson are all good," said Perry. "I had a great five years there (red-shirted 1983). I think the one moment that stands out will be playing with my brother (William Perry) for the first time. We were playing against Appalachian State in 1984 and I think he got a sack and I recovered a fumble that day. It was a great start to my career in Death Valley."



Perry received quite an ovation upon his return to Death Valley.

His NFL career has been even more successful than his Clemson career. The 1994 season marked his fifth year in the Pro Bowl and his fifth year making an All-Pro team. He is among the Cleveland Browns all-time top five in quarterback sacks. Now he is with the Denver Broncos after signing a free agent contract.

"I am looking forward to playing with the Broncos. I would compare the Denver defenses to the Bud Carson defenses we had in Cleveland." Cleveland was in the playoffs often during Perry's tenure with the Browns and Carson's defensive schemes were conducive to impressive stats for Michael Dean.

"This is an attacking defense and I like that. You are not sitting on the line trying to read and react. You are always trying to create chaos on the offensive side of the ball and put pressure on the offense. I am going to like this defense, and once I get used to my teammates, its going to be even better. It is like night and day compared to my last year in Cleveland.

"We had to wait for the offense to make a move in Cleveland. Pretty much, you played your man so the linebackers could run free. In Denver you are primarily trying to make the plays yourself and the linebackers are there to fill in the gaps."

Perry's return to Death Valley was for just a preseason game, but it had regular season intensity for Michael Dean. On Carolina's first drive, he stuffed Panther running back Barry Foster on a fourth-and-1 deep in Denver territory, just like he did against so many ACC teams in the mid 1980s. Early in the second quarter, Perry put heavy pressure on Carolina quarterback Jack Trudeau, getting Trudeau to the turf just an instant after the ball was thrown. Carolina was forced to kick a field goal on the next play. On the first play of the second half, Perry, showed he can still run. He caught Panther running back Randy Baldwin from behind after Baldwin broke the line of scrimmage. Fitting that he made the play against a former Duke player.

At one time during the offseason, many thought Perry would be playing all his home games at Death Valley, as there was talk the Panthers would take him in the expansion draft. "It would have been nice to play at Clemson and for the Panthers because I'm building a home (with his wife Trini) in Charlotte.

"But, it didn't bother me that the Panthers didn't draft me because at this stage of my career I am looking forward to being on a team that has a chance to play in the Super Bowl. Carolina did what it needed to do. They wanted young guys because they have a building process going on and I'm almost at the end of my career."

Before the game Perry said he had to provide plenty of information about Clemson traditions to his Bronco teammates. "All of them asked me if I was going to go up the hill and rub the rock," Perry said with a laugh. "It told them I don't think so. I wasn't even tempted. That's special for Clemson players."

And, Michael Dean Perry was certainly a special player for the Clemson Tigers.

Traditions are something that don't happen overnight, they evolve over a number of years. One tradition at Clemson that is going strong and heading into its 61st year is IPTAY. The IPTAY Scholarship Foundation, is known throughout the country for its faithful and generous contributions by its supporters. A recent USA Today article called IPTAY the best-known organization of its kind in the nation. The article noted that at a time when college athletic costs are rising IPTAY continues to lead the way in supporting athletic scholarships at Clemson. IPTAY plays a major role in ensuring that all 18 of the varsity sports at Clemson are given the maximum amount of scholarships allowed by the NCAA.

IPTAY completed another record breaking year in 1994-95 when it went over the $6 million mark for the second straight year. The total number of members reached 19,000. The Tiger Cub Club was introduced in 1993, giving Clemson fans from birth to age 22 a chance to become involved in Tiger athletics. That club is now approaching the 2,000 mark in terms of members.

Thanks to this support, Clemson enjoyed another banner year in 1994-95. Nine Clemson teams, including five spring sports, advanced to NCAA play. Clemson was one of four schools in the nation to have its football, basketball, and baseball teams ranked in the top 25 of the USA Today poll at one time or another. Clemson had four ACC Rookie-of-the-Year selections and 22 All-Americans.

IPTAY is recognized as one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America. IPTAY was the first athletic fundraising organization in the country to top the two, three, four, and five-million dollar marks in annual donations.

In 1934, Dr. Rupert Fike founded IPTAY with a very simple purpose in mind: IPTAY provides funds for athletic scholarships. Since 1934 IPTAY has certainly met Fike's goal, providing scholarships for over 5,000 student-athletes, trainers, and managers.

IPTAY currently provides the funds for tutorial programs staffed by trained academic advisors, assisted by graduate and undergraduate students. This support is intended to ensure that all student-athletes are given the opportunity to earn their degree while participating in athletics.

IPTAY donors have also played an intricate role in the "Campaign for Clemson", a long range fund-raising project of the University. The University's original goal of 62 million dollars was surpassed with the next goal of 78 million also being surpassed in the campaign that ended on June 30, 1992. IPTAY provided three million dollars with ongoing opportunities for donors to be part of the Vickery Hall Academic Learning Center.

Vickery Hall, located on East Campus, is a 27,000 square foot facility that houses the tutoring and advising programs for student-athletes. The building contains various-sized study and tutoring rooms used for individual study as well as small group instruction.

This building is a major reason Clemson student-athletes had a record 2.55 GPA in the Spring Semester of 1995. Additionally, 83 student-athletes made the ACC Academic Honor Roll, the highest figure in Clemson history. A record number of students also made the Dean's List and the President's List.

The generous support of loyal donors to IPTAY has allowed the organization to go beyond the funding of athletic scholarships by providing the financial basis for many of the unparalled athletic facilities at Clemson.

Since 1978, IPTAY has provided the funding for $34 million of capital improvements in the area of athletics. These improvements include the expansion of the football stadium, the renovated baseball facility (Tiger Field), the outdoor track with new stadium facilities, the indoor tennis facility, the soccer stadium, the weight room, the new golf practice area, a new cross country course, the McFadden Building, and the IPTAY/Ticket office facility.

The facilities are among the best in the country, at least that must be the opinion of the NCAA. Over the last two years Clemson has played host to NCAA events in four different sports, including three in 1994-95.

IPTAY is also proud to provide the funding for Tiger Band. Each year IPTAY establishes financial support for travel, uniforms and equipment for this integral part of the Clemson athletic program.

While IPTAY is primarily concerned with athletic fundraising, the mission of Clemson University has not been overlooked. The IPTAY Academic Scholarship Endowment was created to help meet the need for more academic scholarships for non-athletes who are highly qualified academically. This scholarship endowment is funded by certain company gifts that are made as a result of employee contributions to IPTAY. In addition, the athletic department has made generous contributions to the endowment from athletic revenues.

The IPTAY Academic Fund is presently the largest scholarship endowment of its kind at Clemson providing $2.3 million in funds, currently benefitting more than 60 students. IPTAY's support extends to all of the student body.

The tremendous support of IPTAY is due, in large part, to the organizational makeup that allows donors to be as close to IPTAY as they are to their local IPTAY leadership. Each of South Carolina's 46 counties has an IPTAY County chairman, and every county is alloted an IPTAY representative for every 35 donors.

One important way IPTAY keeps in touch with its membership is the annual Clemson Club meeting held in April and May of each year. These meetings, which feature different coaches and administrators are just one of the ways of making the local IPTAY members feel close to Clemson.

Clemson University will continue to be recognized and respected on the national level athletically and academically with the full support of IPTAY. IPTAY will continue to be successful because a loyal commitment to Clemson University is a way of life in the hearts of Clemson alumni and friends.

One of the factors in Dr. Deno Curris' decision to come to Clemson was the consistent love of the school expressed by Clemson graduates and IPTAY members.

TIGER VOLLEYBALL

by Jessica Reo

Preseason & The Atlantic Coast Conference

The Tigers were ranked second in the ACC Preseason Poll as voted by the coaches of the ACC. "Preseason polls are tough because there are so many other facets of a team that the other coaches haven't seen yet," states Head Coach Jolene Hoover. "There's the addition of freshmen. Freshmen can come in and make a big impact on a program."

The ACC saw the Tigers in the conference championship match for the first time in the history of Clemson's volleyball program. Duke walked away with the win, but the Tigers gained much from their appearance. The confidence earned by Clemson's squad will pay off this year in the win-loss column. And having the ACC tournament on Clemson's "home court" will prove to be an advantage for the Tigers.

"We have the experience of having made the trip to the ACC Tournament final in 1994," says Hoover. "That experience will help us down the stretch this year."

The Coaches

As Jolene Hoover enters her third year with the Tigers, she can look back on a phenomenal 55-16 two-year record and a 148-47 career record. In just her second year with Clemson, Hoover led the Tigers to a sixth place final ranking in the South Regional poll, and the 15th spot in the NCAA's final RPI ranking of the season. She was named Clemson's first-ever ACC Volleyball Coach-of-the-Year. "I was very flattered to receive the award and I took it as a compliment because it comes from the other coaches in the league," said Hoover. "It makes me feel good about what we're doing at Clemson, what our program is doing and what our program is accomplishing. I look at it as a reflection of our program rather than a reflection on me."

And the list of accomplishments goes on for Hoover. In her first year with the Tigers in 1993, the Hoover-led team appeared in the NCAA, and hosted the first-round of play for the first time in the history of Clemson's volleyball program. In her second year as a Division I coach, the Tigers played host to the first-round of the NCAA's for the second year in a row and travelled to Houston for the second-round of the championships.

Jackie Hadel returns for her third year with the Tigers to add experience. Hadel, who came to the Tigers from the University of Tampa, adds confidence to the bench and experience to the staff.

The addition of Matt Sonnichsen to assist Hoover with recruiting, promotions, and coaching, is a bonus for the Tigers as well. Sonnichsen, who comes to the Tigers after a stint as the volunteer assistant coach for Baylor, was a member of the UCLA National Champion volleyball teams of 1987 and 1989 and was named the NCAA tournament MVP for his performance in 1989.

The Returnees

Clemson returns four of its six starters from last season in Ashley Self, Julie Rodriguez, Nancy McGinty, and Megan McEnery. Julie Rodriguez had another successful season as one of Clemson's prominent outside hitters. After a freshman year as the ACC Rookie-of-the-Year, expectations were high for Rodriguez, and she easily lived up to her talents. Rodriguez posted numbers that put her second on the team in kills and second in digs.

Ashley Self returns to her middle blocker position with expectations high that she will perform better and better with each turn at the net. Self had an outstanding sophomore season and was named to the ACC-SEC Challenge all-tournament team. She is a leader for the '95 Tigers and keeps her starting role at middle blocker. Her contributions to this team should be immediate and her leadership qualities will give the Tigers an edge during competition. She will represent the Tigers as a co-captain in '95.

Seniors Megan McEnery and Nancy McGinty have their roles to play as team leaders. McEnery has been a steady force for the Tigers over the past three seasons. She is one of the Tigers most aggressive defensive players and servers and will serve as the other co-captain for the '95 Tigers.

McGinty begins her second year with the Tigers after transferring from San Diego State. She had a positive showing in her first season and is one of the most powerful hitters on the squad. Her intensity on the court has been beneficial for the Tigers in the past and will add to the Tigers strength this season.

Sophomore Jill Heavey, a member of the '93 ACC All-Freshmen team, is coming off a red-shirt sophomore season and is expected to be in strong contention for one of the right side outside hitter starting slots.

Michelle Thieke enters her sophomore season as one of the top contenders for the setter position, left open by the graduation of three-year starter Heather Kahl. Thieke looked strong in the off-season, but will have to contend with freshman competition to gain the hand on the starting role. Physically, Thieke is the strongest volleyball player to come through Clemson's program. Thieke owns seven of the current team's strength bests and has established three new weight room records.

Marci Caudle, now a sophomore for the Tigers, saw limited action last season behind the play of Robin Kibben and Ashley Self. She can read the opponent's offense well and will add depth and expertise to the Tiger defense this year. She is another middle hitter who will look to challenge for a primary spot in the starting line up after filling in and starting in three matches last year. Former Tiger Robin Kibben's absence leaves this primary middle hitter position up for grabs this year.

The Tigers, for the first time in at least two years, have depth in all positions. With the addition of two signees, the Tigers have the opportunity to do extremely well in the ACC battle and in non-conference play.

The Newcomers

Mandy Smelzer, a middle blocker out of Colorado, hopes to come in and make an immediate impact on the Tiger volleyball program. She is a powerful and exciting player and has the ability to move to the left side, which is what the Tigers want.

Stephanie Schulz is a middle blocker out of St. Louis, Missouri. Schulz may be able to contribute on either right or left side, not solely in the middle. She will give the Tigers the flexibility of playing in more than one position.

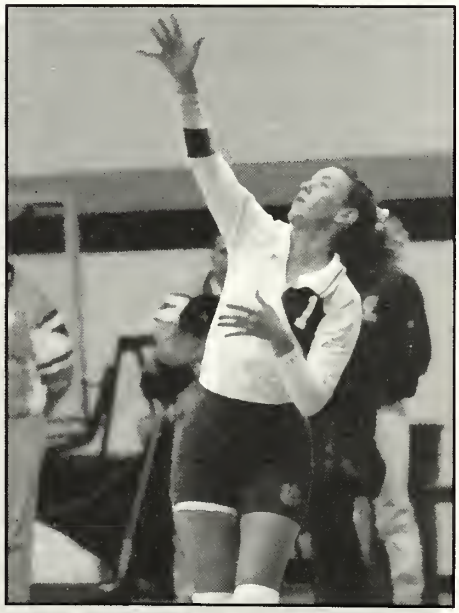
The 1995 Schedule

The Tigers will travel to Colorado State to meet Northern Illinois, Oregon, Colorado State, and Ball State, all first time meetings between the teams. The Big Orange Bash plays host to the University of Texas-Arlington, Alabama, and Eastern Kentucky.

The Tigers also have on the schedule Georgia, DePaul, Memphis, Auburn, Providence, and Boston College, along with the ACC schedule.

"Our schedule is pretty tough this year," states Hoover. "The Big Orange Bash will be a much stronger tournament than it has been in the past. We'll play Georgia, Auburn, and Alabama of the SEC and our conference schedule is extremely tough with the home and away format.

"We're really excited about this. We feel like we're a credible team and our schedule is tough in '95. I feel that we're going to be challenged but we will find a lot of success. Hopefully, we'll be able to qualify again for the NCAA tournament due to our performance all season, or by winning the ACC title."



Megan McEnery is a veteran Hoover is counting on in 1995.

CHUCK WINSLOW

by Jessica Reo

Reserved. Shy. Observant. Not really what you expect when you see a 6-2, 235-pound football player walk into a room, but that's what you get with Chuck Winslow — at least when he walks into a room. What you get out on the field is something totally different. You get an explosive, commanding, and knowledgeable player, as evidenced by his performance last season against the Virginia Cavaliers.

In the first starting role of his career at inside linebacker, Winslow garnered 10 tackles and caused two fumbles and was the only player on the Clemson squad to cause two fumbles in one game in 1994. One problem was that it wasn't his position to hold on to. Winslow was the backup behind veteran inside linebacker Mike Barber, who was injured prior to the Cavalier clash and could not start. Barber is now with the Seattle Seahawks.

Winslow has been an athlete plagued with injuries from his first day as a Tiger, and when he was well, it was harder to make an impact as he had missed too much practice time. He missed the preseason of his red-shirt freshman year with a knee scope, he tore a tendon in his finger during his sophomore year, causing him to miss one game and play the rest of the season with a cast, and then entered his junior year with some shoulder problems. It was the Virginia game of '94 that sparked an explosion for Winslow, even though it was a short one. His performance let the coaching staff know that they had a player — a good player.

"I knew that I had to step up and perform in that game (Virginia) because I received the starting role when Mike Barber got hurt," states Winslow. "My coaches were telling me all week 'we need you to play this week, you're going to have to step up and play' so there was a little bit of pressure there. It didn't really bother me, I just went out there and performed like I could. I was in a zone and I felt comfortable out there."

One of the advantages that Winslow had in that game was that it was almost on his home turf, thus providing that extra incentive. As a Virginia native, his roots, his strength, and his family all come from Virginia. So do his friends, and some are on the Virginia squad.

"I had some reporters talk to me the week prior to the game and they asked me if I had any friends on the team up there. I do, he's a starting inside linebacker (Skeet Jones)," says Winslow. "I'm from Virginia, so it feels good when you go home and have all your buddies ask about when we play Virginia. Skeet (Jones) and I get questioned a lot when we go home about playing against one another."

So, this year the tone has changed for Winslow. With the exit of Clemson's four starting inside and outside linebackers, Mike Barber, Tim Jones, Wardell Rouse, and Darnell Stephens, there has been a lot of shuffling and shifting by players and coaches for starting slots. "I think it does hurt us a lot. Those guys leaving left us some holes. We have almost no experience at linebacker. They were role models for a lot of guys. Any questions anybody had, they could ask Mike (Barber) or Tim (Jones) and Wardell (Rouse) and Darnell (Stephens). They were always willing to help us. I miss them, but now is my time to step up."

The opportunity to challenge for a starting slot has presented itself to Winslow and he isn't about to let it get by. He has shifted his game from inside to outside linebacker in order to improve his chances for a starting role, and the work has been tough, but encouraging.

"I was at inside linebacker sharing the position but they moved me to outside because they needed help out there," said Winslow. "Coach Aldridge told me that I'd have a chance to see a lot more action there so I am giving it a try. It's a lot different from inside, there are a lot of different reads. At inside, you just play ball, you're right in the middle of everything. When you're at outside, it seems like you're on an island by yourself. You have so much to pick up on your reads as the ball snaps. I'm picking it up though, and playing at inside has helped me a lot."

And as a senior, Winslow has now become a leader in his own right towards the younger players on the team. "I try to talk to them (freshman) and tell them that there is no way around this (practice). I let them know that if we go out there and we do it right the first time, we won't have to do it again. It will be a lot easier. I tell them that if they have any questions, to ask me and I'll try to help before we get out there on the field. "

And Winslow does know the game after having played four different positions in both high school and college. He's also had experience in different sports and in key positions with those sports. At Tidewater High School in Virginia Beach, Winslow was an all-around athlete. He was the quarterback of his football team and switched out to free safety a few times.

His versatility continued in other sports as he was a small forward for his basketball team, and he was a pitcher and first-baseman for his baseball team. He was offered baseball scholarships to Virginia Tech, Virginia Military, and East Carolina and was a member of a summer league baseball team during his high school career. As a matter of fact, his summer league team went to the first-round of the World Series in Bristol, Tennessee his last year of play. He had the chance to play professional baseball, but turned it down to play football at Clemson.

Winslow is slated to graduate in May with a degree in Industrial Education and Human Resource Development and his education is something that's very important to him. One of his goals has been to attain his degree and another is to possibly coach football in the future. But, right now, his education and Clemson football come first.

"I want to be looked at as more than just a football player. I've thought about coaching and I think that I can do it. I'd like to start off at a high school level and then maybe move on to college coaching. I wouldn't mind putting in the hours," says Winslow. "Coaching is something that I've thought about for a long time."

But, before a coaching career comes Winslows senior year and today's game will be a big day. "The last time we played Florida State at home it was the best feeling I have ever had. When we ran down the hill in front of that crowd, it was something I will never forget."

Florida State is here again and Winslow's career has come full circle. The screaming and excited 80,000 fans before kickoff and the run down the hill. Fourteen family members will be in the stands, having piled in a van to make the trek to Clemson to watch Chuck play, and he's determined to make the most of his performance.

Winslow made the most of his first college start, recording 10 tackles and two caused fumbles at Virginia last year.

The McFadden Building

McFadden Building

The Clemson Athletic Department continued its commitment to provide its student-athletes with the best facilities when it recently completed the Banks McFadden Building at the Jervey Athletic Center. The dedication of this 20,000-square-foot facility last April was the cornerstone of the Jervey Athletic Center renovation project that will be completed in 1996. It is designed to give all Clemson gridders the most modern and comfortable facilities in the nation.

The McFadden Building houses all the coaching offices and meeting rooms for Clemson's football team. The facility has meeting rooms for all nine position areas, so players are no longer forced to view film and discuss key strategy in a coach's cramped office. Each meeting room is equipped with "state of the art" video equipment.

McFadden Building Auditorium

There is also an auditorium that will hold as many as 180 people and is used for team meetings and press conferences. Additionally, there are private rooms for interviews with the media, a lounge, and even a pro scout facility that allows NFL representatives to view film of current Tigers in air-conditioned comfort.

The facility will also house a trophy and memorabilia area at its entrance. Much of the area will be devoted to Banks McFadden, the former Clemson All-American and coach who perhaps had as much an impact on Clemson athletic history as anyone.

The construction of the McFadden building is one of the final stages of the overall renovation of the Jervey Athletic Center. Last summer the Tiger football team came back to a new and expanded locker room with fresh paint, new carpeting, new lockers and more space. The training room was also expanded and a player lounge area, complete with video games and televisions, was constructed. By next year the weight room below the Jervey Athletic Center will be increased in size to an incredible 14,000 square feet from its already impressive 11,000 square feet.

"The completion of the McFadden building gives us outstanding facilities in every area," said Head Coach Tommy West. "We now have a stadium that is second to none as far as its appearance, tradition and ability to accommodate large crowds in a pleasant and unique setting. We have a new, modern and spacious locker room, team area and training facilities. And, the meeting and office areas are comfortable places to learn and work."

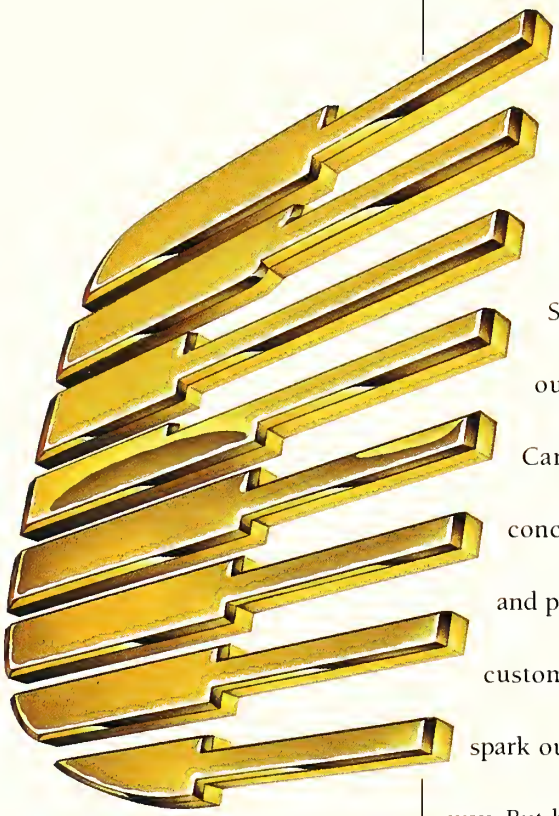
What we mean by putting South Carolina first.



We founded Carolina First because, well, because we felt we had to.• South Carolina's community banks were being bought up and run to serve absentee owners. • Being South Carolinians, we didn't care to do without a strong bank dedicated to our state's well-being. Being bankers, we created this bank. • If we understand South Carolina's needs, it's because they're the needs of our own friends and neighbors. We invest in South Carolina businesses because it's good business for all concerned. After all, when our home communities grow and prosper, we grow and prosper. And because we treat our customers as the individuals they are, their good feelings spark our own. • We'd treat any customer from anywhere this way. But by design – and in conscious contrast to the multi-state megabanks – our customers are South Carolinians. So are we. Is it any wonder we put South Carolina first?

*The ACC has had five bowl teams in each of the past two seasons and at least four bowl teams six years in a row.

*The ACC was the only conference to have five teams ranked in both the final AP and USA Today polls in 1994.

*The league had five teams with eight or more wins. Six teams, including Clemson, were ranked in the top 25 of both polls at one time or another in 1994.

*Five ACC Players, including Clemson's Ed Glenn, were named first-team Academic All-American, while five players were named first-team All-American.

*The ACC is the only conference to have all of its members play in at least one bowl game over the last six years.

*Nine times in the last 15 years an ACC member school has won the CFA Academic Achievement Award.

*Over the last 14 years the ACC and the Big Eight have captured more college football national championships than any other conference. Clemson won the title in 1981, Georgia Tech in 1990 and Florida State in 1993.

*The nine ACC schools that will take to the field this fall have produced 304 first or second-team gridiron All-Americans and 47 first-team Academic All-Americans. ACC teams have had 1,280 players selected in the annual NFL draft, including 81 first-round selections.

*Clemson and Florida State are two of just six teams nationally who have won at least 75 percent of their games in seven of the last nine years. Clemson and Florida State are two of just four teams to win at least six bowl games since 1986.

*For the fourth consecutive year the ACC drew more than 2.2 million fans. Over 51 home dates, ACC schools attracted 2,262,017 fans. ACC teams played to 88 percent of their stadium capacities. Clemson ranked 13th in the nation in average attendance, its 13th straight year in the top 15 in the nation in attendance.

*If success in postseason play is a barometer of excellence, the ACC is among the best leagues in the nation. The nine ACC teams have a combined 73-62-5 record in bowl games over the years, a .540 winning percentage. That is second only to the Pac-10's .550 success rate. Three ACC teams are among the top eight in NCAA history in terms of bowl winning percentage.

EMERGENCY SERVICES

The Clemson University Athletic Department provides the following for your safety and emergency medical needs:

1. Advanced cardiac life-support stations in four locations (North stands, upper North deck, South stands, Upper South deck). These units are staffed with skill-care nurses, physicians, cardiologists, internists, paramedics, and EMTs.
2. Mobile units of EMTs and paramedics are strategically located throughout the entire stadium.
3. Ambulances with life-support equipment are available in North stand and South stand areas and have prearranged routes for evacuation to local hospitals.

Learn to recognize these personnel and facilities.

WHAT TO DO IF EMERGENCIES ARISE:

Please step back and give the organized EMS personnel room to work. Well-intentioned attempts to help by untrained persons interfere with the efficiency of the EMS system. If you have basic or advanced training in specific life-support methods, make your qualifications known and offer your help. Untrained personnel can frequently be more harmful than helpful.

Most emergencies occurring at the stadium result from pre-existing medical conditions. Bring your medical identification card or wear medical identification jewelry. Moderation is the key with dress, food, beverage intake, and physical exertion. The two most frequent medical problems at football games are allergic reactions to insect stings and heart attacks.

INSECT STINGS:

Common at outdoor events. Treat immediately with ice and seek medical advice. If allergic, carry a kit from your physician with you.

HOW TO RECOGNIZE A HEART ATTACK:

The symptoms of a heart attack vary, but the usual warning signs are:

1. Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest lasting for two minutes or more.
2. Pain spreading to the shoulders, neck, jaw, arms, or back.
3. Dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea, and/or shortness of breath.

EXPECT A DENIAL

Frequently heart attack victims deny they are having a heart attack. The event is frightening or they don't want the embarrassment of a false alarm. Therefore, they delay getting help by ignoring their symptoms or rationalizing, "It's just indigestion."

Find out what's really wrong. Prompt response can dramatically increase chances of survival and recovery.

New therapies have been developed that can minimize heart damage and save lives if treatment begins within the first few hours of symptom onset. "Time is muscle." Get help or get to a hospital immediately.

GAME DAY WITH THE GROUND CREW

by Sam Blackman

The home field advantage.

This phrase is an intangible edge when comparing two teams. This season, two different teams will have the home field advantage when they take to the surface of Clemson's Memorial stadium. The advantage is not only the vocal crowd, but the bermuda grass field that resembles a deep green carpet they will be playing on—one of the finest surfaces in any level of football.

Preparing the field is similar to training the football team for a season, you can't wait until the last minute. It is a year-round activity says Ronnie Oliver of Environmental Landscaping Co. in Greenwood, SC. Oliver's task is to prevent Frank Howard Field from looking like a "demilitarized zone", a problem Arizona State has had in recent years when Arizona State and the Phoenix Cardinals have played multiple weeks of inclement weather games at Sun Devil Stadium. There was a similar problem last year at Soldier's Field in Chicago when the World Cup was played there in the summer, followed by the Bears and other college and high school games.

Oliver is in charge of maintaining Clemson's athletic fields. He has also done extensive work with the Carolina Panthers as he developed the practice fields at Winthrop and Wofford at the training facilities. He also has worked with UNC-Charlotte and Furman just to name a few other clients.

Oliver explains that there will not be too much difference in having two different Cats (Tigers and Panthers) frolic on Frank Howard Field.

"There is not too much difference in having to prepare the field for both the Tigers and Panthers," said Oliver. "The things we do for game day preparations will be the same. Instead of doing it six times we are doing it 16 times this season.

"This past summer we did a few things different. Aerating the surface more than usual is one way we tried to improve the root system. If we don't have good turf now in September, it is too late. In the summer we are not trying to get pretty grass, but instead good grass. We also upped the fertilization slightly along with extra mowing and top dressing.

"During the game week, our preparation consists of mowing the grass two or three times a day until Wednesday, then we turn it over to the paint crew. They stripe the field and color the end zone using a water-based paint.

"Rain could be the worst thing that could happen to the grass as a game approaches. A period of 24 hours before a game is not a problem, however, rain 10-12 hours before a game could create a big problem. In the pros the Panthers don't have as many people on the sidelines and this is a big benefit—fewer traffic and players. Of course the sidelines is the area that wears out first."

An early season challenge took place August 25-26 when 10 inches of rain fell on Memorial Stadium prior to and the day of the Panthers-New York Giants game. Fortunately, the Panthers purchased a tarp and shipped it to Clemson in July. It will be used this fall at Clemson, then moved to Charlotte for use at the Panthers' new stadium, which opens next year.

"The middle of the field really was chewed up in the pro game because the hash marks are just 18 feet apart," said Les Jones, Clemson's Director of Facilities. "The college hashmarks are 39 feet wide so it is not as taxing on the middle of the field. The field held up pretty well during the Giants-Panthers game, but, I hope we don't have too many rain games like that.

"If we have to, we can put in new sod in the middle of the field after the Panther game on October 22nd. There won't be another game until November 4 when Clemson plays North Carolina. Hopefully we won't have to do that. We have made the provision to do it if we have to."

A yearly schedule for Frank Howard Field is just like a football team's regime, it is a year round process. "We start a weed herbicide program in January and February, controlling unwanted grasses and weeds, and the field is fertilized every month," said Oliver. The type of grass that comprises the surface of Memorial Stadium is 70% hybrid 419 bermuda, and 30% common bermuda.

"Some months we use different fertilizers and different amounts depending on the time of year. In March and April, preparations are done for the Spring Game and scrimmages. After the spring practices we spray herbicides to remove the rye grass we overseeded earlier in the year, and other weeds.

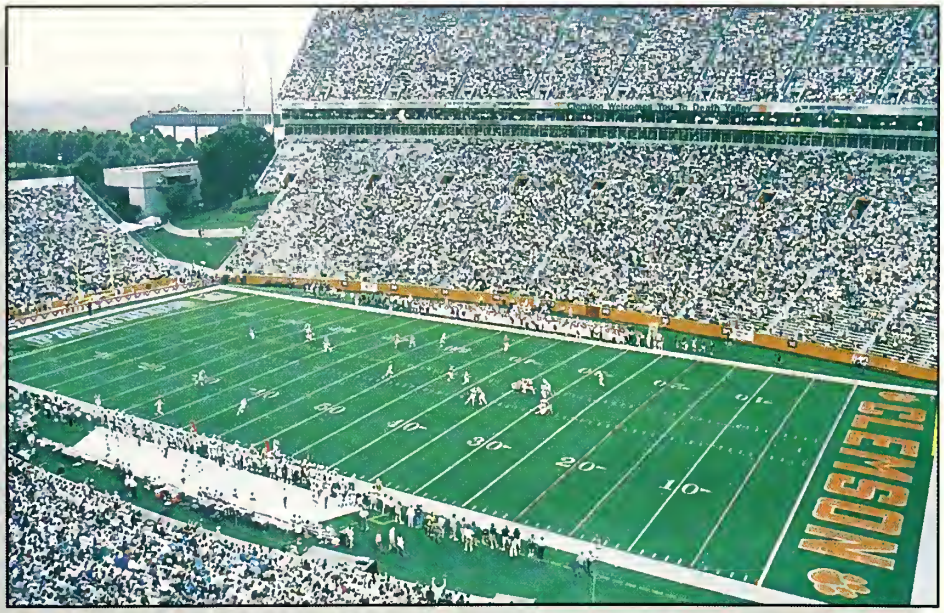
"We can't do too much work until the soil temperature gets 60 degrees and this puts us in May. This is when most of our activities occur, May-August. During this time we aerate, top dress and perform turf quaking. The things that give you good grass occur May 1, through August 1. On August 1, we start doing things that give you pretty grass or aesthetics.

"I hear this every year in July, 'Is the grass in the stadium going to be ready?'

"Again we are trying to grow good grass in the summer so it will look great in the fall. What we do during the summer is detrimental to the daily appearances at that time, but for the long term it is necessary so we can have good, tough, thick grass in the fall."

When the bermuda grass gets dormant in October, the field is overseeded with rye grass for the rich green look. This season, because of the break in the schedule, the field will be overseeded with rye grass on October 23, and the field will become a mixture of dormant bermuda and rye grass.

With the work of Ronnie Oliver and the Clemson ground crew, both the Panthers and Tigers will be yearning to play on the "green grass of home" at Clemson's Death Valley.



With 16 games in Death Valley this year, the fall of 1995 will be a memorable one for Clemson's ground crew.

TODAY'S BAND PROGRAM

By Brenda Rabon

On this Saturday afternoon, the Clemson Tigers encounter the Florida State Seminoles in Death Valley for the first time in three years. Clemson and Florida State are two of just four teams nationally who have won at least 75 percent of their games in seven of the last nine years so it promises to be a game of national interest, a reason the game will be televised by ABC.

With this matchup, emotions will be at an all-time high for both Tiger and Seminole fans. Who better to generate Clemson spirit than the Tiger Band? Over the years, Tiger Band has become an integral part of Clemson tradition. "The Band That Shakes the Southland" continues to be known for its precision marching, dynamic sound, and famous Clemson spirit and performs at all Clemson football games, both home and away.

Tiger Band highlights this special weekend with a special touch of Clemson spirit as it presents the traditional pregame show. Today, under the direction of Dr. Mark Hosler, Tiger Band will make its traditional sideline entrance with the sound of the famous "Sock It To 'Em/Tiger Rag."

Pregame festivities continue with one of John Phillip Sousa's most renowned marches, "Washington Post." The Clemson University Pershing Rifles Company C4 presents the colors on the field. Everyone then stands and joins Tiger Band to honor America in singing "God Bless America."

After the invocation, the crowd remains standing for the Pledge of Allegiance and the singing of the National Anthem conducted by Clemson University Director of Bands, Dr. Richard Goodstein. Tiger Band then invites all to sing the Clemson University Alma Mater.

Tiger Band marches to form the traditional script "Tigers" across Frank Howard Field. Everyone directs attention to the 25-yard line where Lynn Campbell, IPTAY president, dots the "i" today.

Campbell, a '62 graduate of Clemson, recently was named to the IPTAY presidency for the next two years. Campbell brings a wealth of experience to the helm of one of the oldest, largest and most successful athletic fundraising organizations in America.

According to Campbell, more involvement by more supporters is the key to IPTAY's growth. "It will be difficult, but our goal will be to continue IPTAY's growth. Hopefully, we can achieve growth both in dollars and number of people involved.

"The bottom line is we need to get the message out that we need more involvement both in terms of dollars and number of donors. If we want to be number-one, we have to dig to get there. We ask our coaches and student-athletes to do that. We should have the same kind of commitment."

After the presentation of Campbell, Tiger Band strikes up "Sock It To 'Em/Tiger Rag" while marching to the east end of Memorial Stadium to form the tunnel for the Tigers to run through. Fans are moments from witnessing what has been described as "the most exciting 25 seconds in college football from a color and pageantry standpoint."

Clemson University Alma Mater

Where the Blue Ridge yawns its greatness
Where the Tigers play
Here the sons of dear old Clemson,
Reign supreme alway.

Chorus

Dear old Clemson, we will triumph
And with all our might
That the Tigers' roar may echo
O'er the mountain height.

At the appointed time, the cannon fires and the frenzy begins. Players rub Howard's Rock in hopes of gaining the strange, mystical powers the rock has been known to give. The adrenaline rush begins for the Tigers as they meet the Seminoles before a packed house in Death Valley.

This afternoon, running down the hill has special significance for one of Clemson's finest. Assistant Athletic Director and Head Trainer Fred Hoover will run down the hill to witness his 400th consecutive game working on the Clemson sidelines. Ironically, the contest will be against his alma mater, Florida State.

Today Tiger Band presents a "Wild West" halftime show featuring several classic movie and television westerns. Music selections include, "The Magnificent Seven," "Gunsmoke," "The Wild, Wild West," "Rawhide," "The Good, The Bad, and The Ugly," and "Happy Trails." The music for today's show was arranged for Tiger Band by Steve Pfaffman.

Tiger Band staff includes Dr. Mark Hosler, Tiger Band Director, Dr. Rick Goodstein, Director of Bands, Cheryl Hosler, Flag Line Instructor, and Hazel Cartee, Twirler Instructor.

Let us thank and salute Tiger Band for its dedication and commitment to Clemson University today. This group of individuals plays an instrumental part in generating Tiger spirit for Clemson fans across the nation.

With today's game on ABC television, that spirit will be transmitted to millions of current and hopefully converted Tiger fans. The tradition of excellence Tiger Band has exhibited for all these years continues to be appreciated by Tiger faithful today and for years to come.

Tiger Band will contribute to the spectacle of today's game that will be captured on ABC television.

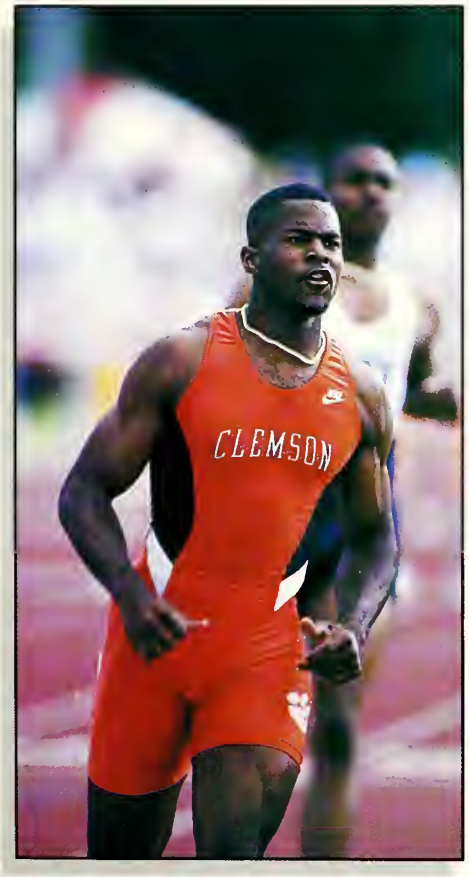
IPTAY ATHLETE-OF-THE-YEAR

by Jessica Reo

The 1995 recipient of the IPTAY Athlete-of-the-Year award is hurdler and national champion, Duane Ross. Ross has followed in the footsteps of Michael Green and James Trapp, both national champions in track and both the recipients of this award. The Clemson Athlete-of-the-Year Award is presented by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Willimon to Clemson's most outstanding athlete each year based on athletic accomplishments with consideration given to character, leadership, and academics.

"I think it is a tremendous honor for Duane to have won this award," says Coach Bob Pollock, the Tigers head track and field coach. "To follow in the footsteps of Michael Green and James Trapp, who both went on to the Olympics, in receiving this award is a very prestigious event in Duane's life as a Clemson student-athlete. Hopefully, Duane will follow in their footsteps. His winning this award speaks well of what Keith (Barnier, assistant coach for sprints and hurdlers) has done with Duane and how Duane has progressed through our program."

This past season, in a span of 13.32 seconds, Duane Ross cleared 10 high hurdles and 110 meters to win his first, and Clemson's second, national individual title in the NCAA Outdoor Track & Field Championships. In that span of time he became the third fastest individual in the world and succeeded in breaking Clemson's record in the high hurdles. In little more than 13 seconds, Ross not only catapulted himself into track and field history, but into the limelight of prominence, dominance, and excellence in the sport.



Ross became Clemson's third Track National Champion in the 1990s.

Think about that accomplishment for a moment. Each hurdle is 42" (3 1/2') high. The distance itself is difficult even for straight sprinters. And the time, of 13.32 seconds ranked him third on the all-time collegiate list. Those two people ahead of him, both Olympic medalists for the United States, are Renaldo Nehemiah, a former world-record holder and world champion, and Greg Foster, another world champion.

And to think, the Dallas, NC, native only took up track to pass the time after rehabilitating a broken ankle. "When I was a freshman in high school I played football and basketball. I was the MVP of my ninth grade basketball team, but during my sophomore year, I didn't play either sport. When I was a junior, I played a pick-up game of basketball and fractured my ankle. That's when I went out for track," says Ross.

Looking back, it was a little bit of fate and a little bit of history that brought Ross to the track. His mother, Betty Garvin, was against his playing a 'dangerous' sport like football or basketball. She encouraged any interest Ross had in track and still is a major factor in his every day life as a track athlete. At the conclusion of every meet, Ross is on the phone to her before he does anything else.

His father was a hurdler in his high school days as well. Maybe that's why it came so naturally to Ross. "My coach just threw me into the hurdles because he thought I could do it. He didn't know too much about coaching the hurdles, but he thought that I could do it." And that wasn't the only thing Ross could just do. "For the first couple of meets I was in, the coach had me throw the discus and the shot. I set a school record in the shot my first year." But he was better in the hurdles and that was where he was most comfortable.

But comfortable wasn't good enough at Clemson, especially in 1992. Ross entered Clemson and competed against the likes of James Trapp, Michael Green, Larry Ryans, and Anthony Knight — in practice. Trapp plays for the Oakland Raiders, won the NFL's Fastest Man competition last year and is a 10-time All-American. Green won the 100m NCAA individual title in outdoor track, was a nine-time ACC Champion and a six-time All-American, while Larry Ryans, who played in the NFL in 1993 and 1994 was a four-time All-American in track. Knight ran for his native Jamaica in the 1988 Olympics.

"It was pretty tough competition all day, every day," remembers Ross. "Being around those guys definitely lifted my times. Leaving high school, I was running around 13.9 seconds consistently. Coming to Clemson was so competitive, we were constantly running against one another and I got to learn from some of the best in the country."

But, being around everyone wasn't the sole reason Ross came to Clemson. It was his goal, along with winning a national title, to earn his degree from the university and train for the Olympics. Now, after his eligibility to run has ended, Ross is doing just that. "I'm training for the Olympics now. I don't want to change anything about my workouts and what I did to get to the point that I ran the 13.32. I want to get my degree (in finance) and what happens after that is still up in the air," says Ross, but the Olympics is first and foremost in his mind.

"It's an advantage for us because Atlanta is so close to home. The familiarity is good. I've been down to that track a lot over the last few years," says Ross. "The Olympic Trials are next June, I think I have a shot. I've improved every year and I've learned not to let things go to my head as much."

The key to Ross's senior year at the NCAA Championships was his demeanor and his maturity. "I changed my attitude dramatically. 'Just relax' has become a key phrase with me. Keith told me to do that all year and I tried it. Every race felt easy. I found out that when you run the fastest, it feels the easiest and I stayed relaxed and focused."

"I think Duane will be one of the best in the world in a relatively short time," states Barnier. He knows what he has to do to win a race now, and he doesn't like to lose. The more international competition he gets, the more he's going to want to beat everyone around him. He doesn't like to lose and usually when he does, it's because he beats himself at the race."

Ross competed in eight NCAA Championships, indoor and outdoor, throughout his career with the Tigers. He is a five-time ACC Champion, a seven-time All-American, and is on track to graduate with a degree in finance in May. "Since coming to Clemson, Duane has excelled in everything he has done. He is a definite team leader. He has always been there for the team, in every aspect. He is a model student-athlete who has found time to have it all. Nothing has been sacrificed," states Barnier. And that's important to Ross, who is as proud of his academic achievements as he is of his athletic achievements.

Balancing both athletics and academics is difficult for some, but it has come easy to Ross. He has achieved excellence in his sport with the award of the national championship trophy in the 110m high hurdles, and is working toward earning his bachelor's degree in finance. He has found the time to have both, and is working his way to having it all — the degree, the national championship, and the Olympic gold. Given the standing of the man, it's hard to imagine that he won't reach his goals.

Tigers in Coaching

There are 12 former Clemson football players who are assistant or head coaches at various levels of college coaching. The two head coaches are Mike O'Cain of N.C. State, who defeated his alma mater in Death Valley last year, and Bobby Johnson, who is Furman's head coach and also coached against his alma mater. In fact, prior to 1993, no Clemson graduate had ever served as opposing head coach at Clemson against the Tigers. Then, in the first two games of 1994, the Tigers faced a Clemson graduate.

Name	Yrs at CU	Current School	Coaching
Mike O'Cain	1973-76	N.C. State	Head Coach
Bobby Johnson	1969-72	Furman	Head Coach
Ricky Bustle	1974-76	Virginia Tech	Off. Coor.
Chris Lancaster	1985-87	Baylor	Run. Backs
Arlington Nunn	1987-90	SW Louisiana	Def. Backs
Dan Pearman	1985-88	Alabama	Offensive Line
Lawson Holland	1972-74	Florida	Wide Rec.
Charlie Waters	1967-69	Oregon	Def. Coor.
J. C. Harper	1985-88	SW Miss. St.	Def. Line

Todd Schonhar	1983-86	N. Illinois	Backs
Steve Ryan	1975-78	N.E. Louisiana	Def. Backs

Scheduling

We normally provide future schedule listings of opponents in the Clemson football program. But, in an effort to schedule more competitive games late in the season and to enhance the ACC's television package to potential clients, the conference schedule will not be released until after the preceeding season. In other words, the 1996 schedule will not be announced until December of 1995.

We realize people want to plan weddings, reunions and other special events. But, the only dates we know for sure are the non-conference games. Clemson will cease playing Southern Conference teams in the year 2000. Here is a list of future non-conference games:

1996: Sept. 7 Furman, Sept 21 at Missouri, Nov. 23 South Carolina.

1997 Sept. 6 Appalachian State, Oct. 4 UTEP, Nov. 22 at South Carolina

1998 Sept. 5 Furman, Oct. 3 at Missouri, Nov. 21 South Carolina

1999 Sept. 4 Western Carolina, Oct. 2 Missouri, Nov. 20 at South Carolina

2000 Sept. 16 at Texas A&M, Sept. 30 Missouri, Nov. 18 South Carolina

Long Journey to Degree

Former Clemson All-American Stacy Long finished his long journey to a Clemson degree last August when he picked up his diploma during ceremonies at Littlejohn Coliseum. Long played for the Tigers between 1986 and 1990, earning first-team All-America honors in 1989 and 1990. He was one of three finalists for the Outland Trophy in 1990.

We applaud Long's accomplishment because it is not easy to stop chasing the NFL career dream. Long had a frustrating career with the Chicago Bears as he suffered knee injuries from almost his first day of camp in 1991. But, he returned to Clemson after much soul searching and put in the academic time, which culminated last month with the diploma.

Long is another reason the NCAA graduation rate statistics need revision. Although Long earned his degree, he counts as a non-graduate according to the NCAA statistics summary because he did not earn the degree within six years of his first day of school.

All-American Stacy Long returned to Clemson to earn his degree.

Mascot Turns Pro

Where do former Tiger mascots go to further their mascot careers after they graduate from Clemson. Some use those mischievous techniques to make some money on the side...as a mascot. This year the Memphis Mad Dogs of the CFL hired former Clemson Tiger mascot Chris Peters. Peters is known as Blitz the Mad Dog and is believed to be the first Tiger to turn pro.

Whitley is the only former Tiger with the Carolina Panthers.

20 Tigers on Opening Day Rosters

Twenty Clemson players were on opening day NFL rosters. The NFL season began last Sunday, September 3rd. This is the seventh year in a row Clemson has had at least 20 players on opening day NFL rosters. This year's list includes four rookies, three who were linebackers on Clemson's 1994 team, and an offensive player who last played at Clemson in 1993. Linebackers Wardell Rouse and Darnell Stephens made the Tampa Bay Bucs roster, while Michael Barber made the Seattle Seahawks squad. Derrick Witherspoon, a tailback on Clemson's 1993 team, made the Philadelphia Eagles club.

Six different teams, the Pittsburgh Steelers, the Philadelphia Eagles, the Chicago Bears, the Seattle Seahawks, the Oakland Raiders and the Tampa Bay Bucs, all have exactly two former Clemson players apiece.

The list includes 14 defensive players, one special teams player and five offensive players. Of the 14 defensive players, nine were members of Clemson's 1990 defense that was ranked number-one in the country in total defense. Of those nine, six are slated to be starters this year.

No	Name	Team	Pos	Exp
21	Terry Allen	Washington Redskins	RB	6th
60	Mike Barber	Seattle Seahawks	LB	1st
96	Brentson Buckner	Pittsburgh Steelers	DE	2nd
29	Dexter Davis	St. Louis Rams	DB	5th
17	Chris Gardocki	Indianapolis Colts	P	5th
26	Jerome Henderson	Philadelphia Eagles	DB	5th
85	Keith Jennings	Chicago Bears	TE	7th
43	Tracy Johnson	Seattle Seahawks	FB	7th
99	Levon Kirkland	Pittsburgh Steelers	LB	4th
58	Ed McDaniel	Minnesota Vikings	LB	4th

21	Donnell Woolford	Chicago Bears	CB	7th

THE LAST WORD

by Bob Bradley

Does anyone remember the last time a team from the Atlantic Coast Conference defeated Florida State in Football?

It definitely hasn't been since the Seminoles became members of the ACC. That came about September 15, 1990. Because of scheduling, the league's newest member was not eligible to play for a football championship until the 1992 season.

But, have the Seminoles made up for lost time since then!

The forces of Coach Bobby Bowden are 25-0 in three years of ACC competition. Clemson lost by four points to the Seminoles in Death Valley in 1992 and the same season, Georgia Tech dropped a five-point decision. Those are the only two times an ACC team has been within a touchdown of FSU over the first three years.

Since that 1992 game in Atlanta against Georgia Tech, the Seminoles have been getting after it. The next week, Virginia was an 11-point loser in Charlottesville, and no team has come closer than 13 points to them since. North Carolina lost in Tallahassee by 13 last season, and two weeks later, Clemson was a 17-point loser. Those were the closest margins of 1994.

Florida State's margin of victory in ACC games only in the last three years is 32 points. The overall record during that time is an amazing 34-3-1 a pair of losses to Miami, one at Notre Dame and a tie with Florida. But six weeks and a day after that deadlock, the Seminoles got their revenge with a six-point win over the Gators in the Sugar Bowl.

The machine that Bowden has put together runs with such precision that it has been in The Associated Press Top 20 for 123 of the last 125 weekly polls. Bowden, beginning his 20th season on the reservation, is "at the helm of an FSU program that has been built into the best in college football," as proclaimed in the school's football media guide.

In the last eight seasons, Florida State has lost only 11 football games, and Clemson can claim one of these. Six of the losses have been at the hands of arch rival Miami (two of them by 31 and 14 points) and Clemson is next with an 11-point triumph in 1989.

And therein is the answer to the opening question.

Clemson would win nine of 11 regular season games that year, including the 34-23 victory in Tallahassee over Florida State, closing out with a 45-0 walloping of South Carolina, then taking to task Major Harris and West Virginia in the Gator Bowl with a 27-7 thumping of the Mountaineers.

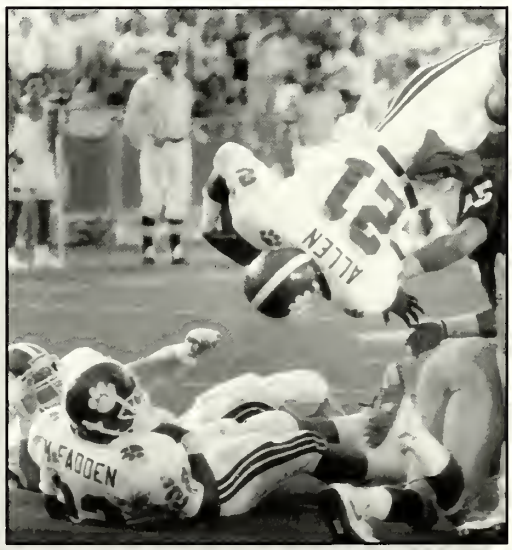
Florida State that season opened with a neutral field loss to Southern Mississippi and then played hosted to Clemson the next Saturday night. Following those two opening defeats, the Seminoles rang up 10 straight victories, including a 41-17 thrashing of Nebraska in the Fiesta Bowl. Florida State would end the year with a number-three ranking in the AP poll.

Today is Florida State's first visit to Clemson since the 1992 season as the Tigers went to the reservation two years in a row in order to balance out the home and away conference schedule. Clemson is hoping that the chain link fence that FSU has had on the 'alumni line' will come down today. The Tigers have not scored in nearly nine quarters against the Seminoles (with 11:11 left in the fourth quarter of the '92 game, then with shutouts in the '93 and '94 contests).

It was six years ago to this very day (9/9/89) that Clemson went to Tallahassee to face the 16th-ranked Seminoles. The Tigers held down the No. 10 slot in the national rankings at the time. Florida State was seething, having lost to the Golden Eagles a week earlier in Jacksonville, although FSU was just a seven-point favorite.

But Clemson's biorthythms must have been in the strongest phase possible. The physical, emotional and intellectual energy levels of this team were something else to see.

The Tigers took the kickoff and Jerome Henderson brought it back 45 steps to the Clemson 48. Chris Morocco found Rodney Fletcher and Wesley McFadden with first down passes, which carried to the Florida State 20. From there Terry Allen lugged the ball four of the next five plays and leaped the final yard to score. Chris Gardocki kicked the first of four extra points. He also was successful on two fourth-quarter field goals.



Allen's three touchdowns lifted Clemson to a surprisingly easy victory in Tallahassee in 1989.

Allen had the honor of scoring Clemson's second TD on the first play of the second quarter which ended an 80-yard, 16-play drive that consumed nearly seven minutes. After the next kickoff, Willis brought the Seminoles to a second-and-four situation at the Clemson 29.

Exactly two minutes after Allen's second score, linebacker Wayne Simmons grabbed a Willis pass and went untouched 73 yards for another Clemson score. The Tigers were in a commanding 21-0 lead and only 17:03 had been played. Willis was successful on his next drive, with a 74-yard trip that ended with a one-yard scoring run by Dexter Carter. There were just about two minutes left in the half and most felt Clemson would be content with a 21-7 halftime lead.

But don't go to the rest room just yet!

Doug Thomas' kickoff return put the Tigers in business at their 27. On the first play, Allen circled left end and went down the sidelines for 73 yards and another Clemson score and a 28-7 lead. Danny Ford would admit after the game that he was just trying to run out the clock and had no idea Allen would go the distance. Tiger fans set up a Seminole tomahawk chop section of their own.

Florida State scored a last second field goal to end the first half, then took the second half kickoff and drove for a touchdown. Freshman Paul Moore had the honor on a one-yard run, but Willis was sacked on the PAT attempt. Clemson got those six points back on two Gardocki field goals, one a 29-yard attempt on the second play of the fourth quarter and a 26-yarder five minutes later.

Clemson didn't get a first down on its next possession and a Gardocki punt gave the Seminoles possession at the Tiger 45. Casey Weldon came in and threw three in-complete passes, but on the third one, Clemson was called for interference. Two plays later Weldon connected with Chris Parker for a 13-yard score, but only 52 seconds remained in the game. An FSU onsides kick failed and two Michael Carr option plays later, the Tigers were doing their own war dance...with a 34-23 victory.

Bowden told Clemson coach Danny Ford at midfield after the game: "You have a better team than you had last year. You're a lot faster."

Whatever the reason, the Tigers pushed more positive buttons than negative ones on this night and it is still a victory that brings smiles to the face of Clemson fans. It probably will for many years to come.

This is the dealership that Yeargin built that sells the cars that BMW builds.

If this building looks impressive, that's because it is. By design. Through the teamwork of Century BMW and Yeargin Enterprises, this state-of-the-art facility reflects the pride and craftsmanship they both work so hard to achieve. (It was nice when our new neighbors, BMW North America, said they liked it too.) So if you appreciate quality, come check out the showroom. And maybe a car or two.
